

Today in the Quad-Cities County budget cutback

Madison County faces a reduction of $682,200 in general fund revenues during 1978 and must gear itself to budget cuts ranging from 1 to 15 per cent in its various operating departments, County Board committee chairman and county department heads were told last night in a meeting at Edwardsville.

While no total budget figure was computed during the session, J. J. Gramlich, Highland, chairman of the County Board's Finance Committee, told all committee chairmen that their final budget figures must be submitted to his committee by tomorrow afternoon.

This will permit finance officials to prepare a new budget during the weekend in time to meet the statutory deadline for posting a budget for public inspection on Monday, he said. The budget must be posted 15 days before the board can approve it.

Board members expect to adopt the budget bill on Nov. 26. A priority list of budget items was presented in last night's meeting by Gramlich and Ed Voumard, Alton, a member of the Finance Committee, who told the county officials that all projected income for the general fund this year is estimated at $4,831,942, compared to actual revenue of $7,514,242 during the 1975 fiscal year which ends Nov. 30.

"This means that the general fund budget this year must be trimmed substantially below the $6,877,904 general fund budget of the 1975 year now ending, and still take into account salary increases that are not in negotiations and are not considered in the figures presented at Wednesday night's meeting, finance officials said.

The county now is negotiating new working agreements with Local 799 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, representing courthouse employees; Local 520 of the Operating Engineers Union, representing deputies and jailers; and Local 625 of the Teamsters Union representing highway department and rabies control employees.

Any salary increases approved by the county must be included in the budget and will represent amounts over those in the 1975 budget, projecting even greater deficits than are now apparent.

Revenue for the county's federal revenue sharing fund also is expected to decrease special accounts during the 1976 year. The meeting was told, Voumard said revenue sharing income

Hope to start in February on sanitary sewers

Groundbreaking during February for the Four Township Sanitary Sewer was predicted by Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the county's special sewer committee, during Monday night's Chouteau Town Board meeting. Sparks explained the designer of the sewers—which will serve Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships—Ed Juneau of the Shepard, Morgan, Schwab engineering and consulting firm, has requested an extension of time from the state grant for the sewers of $10,200,900 will be carried over into the 1976 calendar year, as long as the committee and planners continue to make satisfactory progress on the project.

Sparks said nearly all required free easements have been granted by homeowners and only about 10 landowners in Chouteau Township who have been approached have not yet signed. Nameoki Township also is reporting good progress on easements, with few holdouts. Some of the easement forms still are being prepared by the county, where there are difficulties in determining the title holder, but those forms are expected to be ready for signing this month.

A ban against further construction on a new lounge building at 3304 (rear) Nameoki Road will remain in effect until the owner provides satisfactory plans originally filed by Gilcho provides for drainage into a storm water line on Johnson Road.

"I think the problem is solvable and that things can be worked out," he told the aldermen.

Brewer noted that drainage plans originally filed by Gilcho provides for drainage into a storm water line on Johnson Road.

Quad-Cities to mark Veterans Day—again

Public and parochial schools, along with most public offices and financial institutions, will close Tuesday in observance of Veterans' Day under Illinois law.

The post offices and other federal offices will remain open because they observed the holiday Oct. 27 under a federal law.

Among state offices closed Tuesday will be the Illinois Employment Service and its Unemployment Compensation division, and the driver's license examining station.

All Quad-City banks and savings and loan firms will close, as will city hall offices in Granite City, Madison and Venice and the county courthouses.

Most retail stores will remain open, although store closings in observance of the holiday are optional on decisions of the operators. Some stores closed on the Oct. 27 observance date.

Members of some industrial plant work forces also are expected to observe the holiday Tuesday. Observance of the Oct. 27 or Nov. 11 dates are determined in most union contracts.

Roca to observe 25th year and then disband

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Twenty-five years of service to the schools, community and youth will end Saturday evening when the Royal Order of the American Legion, also known as ROCA, or the ROCA Young Men's Club, will dissolve as a formal organization.

ROCA will conclude its distinguished quarter-century of involvement with a special silver anniversary banquet and homecoming Saturday at the VFW Hall, 2044 Washington Ave.

The event will highlight many of the club's most memorable times and pay tribute to Earl Parsons, the ROCA founder and adult adviser during the club's initial 20 years, and Michael Jesse, who has served as adviser for the remaining five years.

The gala festivities will commence at 6 p.m. Saturday with a cocktail hour. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock and from 8 to 9 p.m., a special program will feature club highlights, memories of happy occasions and well-deserved tributes to Parsons and Jesse, a spokesman said.

Entertainment and dancing will follow the program. Among the special guests will be Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and Granite City Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis.

The anniversary homecoming is open to all past ROCA members, former "sweethearts," friends of ROCA and personal friends of Parsons and Jesse, the club officer said.

Reservations costing $10 per individual or $15 per couple still are being accepted by the club's officers, at 931-0452, and Jesse, at 876-7880.

Founded in 1950 by Parsons, the Granite City group is the only young men's organization of that name and is not affiliated with any other club in the United States. ROCA was (Continued on Page 4)

Drive moving closer to goal

The United Way campaign is moving closer to its $430,000 goal but has not reached it. A 95.6 per cent level was attained at the Oct. 29 report session and the final campaign meeting is set for 4 p.m. next Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the YMCA.

Campaign Chairman David Fox today urged that individuals who have not yet signed pledge cards do so this week or early next week. They may contact the United Way office at 877-6790 or 2021 Edison Ave.

Fox also is urging all drive solicitors to turn in any cards they still retain.

In addition to the basic goal of $430,000, United Way officials have voiced hope that additional funds will be raised, since $443,000 was distributed to agencies for 1975 operations and Standards for jails defended

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Standards for jails are set by law and are influenced by the National Jail Association, according to Allyn R. Sielaff, director of the Illinois Department of Corrections, who spoke Wednesday morning at a Rotary-sponsored monthly prayer breakfast at Charlie's Restaurant.

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer asked, "Why isn't there some financial help from the state or federal government to aid cities in meeting the jail standards set by your department?"

"We have to comply with all these standards and there is no help for the cities or counties. Then, when we don't comply, we get letters threatening to close the jail."

"Our standards are basic human standards under the law, and frequently local officials have to reassess priorities when their jails are not kept repaired," Sielaff replied.

"We try to work with local officials and find alternative situations."

"We want to insure proper security for prisoners in the jails, with proper food service and cleanliness. The National Jail Association recommends most of the standards," he added.

Commenting on recent accusations of a "revolving door" policy in regard to juvenile and adult offenders, the director said, "We have a Pardon and Parole Board that makes the decision on when a prisoner is to be released. The board operates independently in these decisions."

"For example, a person is sentenced to serve from 30 to 100 years under a law passed in 1970, he must have his case reviewed for possible parole in 11 years and three months. But this does not mean the prisoner will get a parole."

$820,000 at stake for 3 school systems

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

School officials statewide have turned their attention toward Springfield, noting last night's successful 89-86 vote to override Gov. Daniel Walker's veto of House bill 2971 to restore full state funding to schools.

Walker cut $81 million from the state aid distributive fund and the House bill is an attempt to reinstate the originally scheduled funding.

The governor vetoed it and the legislature has been three votes short of the 89 necessary to override the veto until last night. Now, all eyes will be on the Senate.

Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, school officials from throughout the state and numerous businessmen, parents and labor leaders have been trying to convince legislators to override the veto.

It is estimated that failure to override the veto could decrease state aid to the Quad-City area schools by about $820,917, including $386,408 to the Granite City schools, $229,887 to Madison and $5,622 to Venice, compared to the funding initially authorized.

The figures have been provided by the Illinois Office of Education.

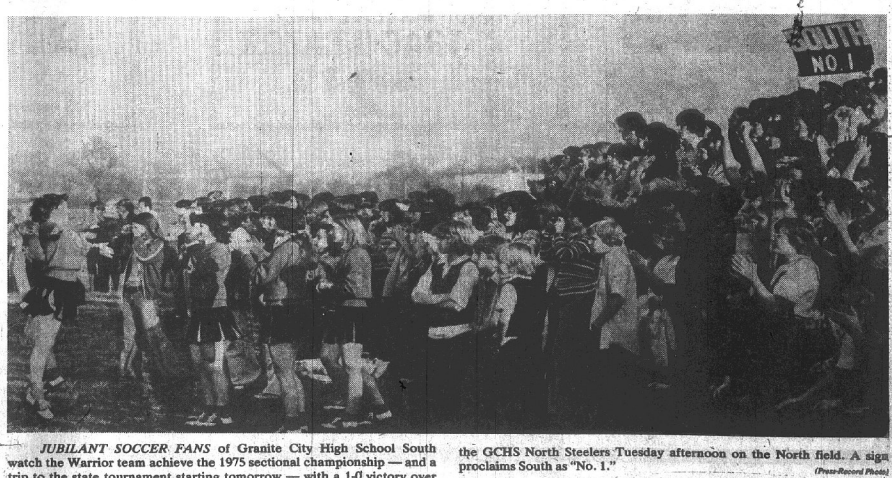

The effect of the loss on other grants could increase the loss to Granite City schools alone to about three-fourths of a million dollars. Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis estimated during Tuesday night's Granite City Board of Education meeting.

Another matter affecting the financial condition of the schools next year is expected to come to a head Nov. 14, according to Supt. Davis. Litigation on behalf of school districts in Madison County, opposing county fees for collecting taxes, is to go to court at that time.

The suit was filed by Robert J. Lynn, attorney for the Alton school district, who acted on behalf of the school districts in the county.

The suit contends that the county's attempt to charge a fee based on the amount of taxes collected for each district is against provisions of the 1970 Illinois Constitution.

The county filed a motion to have the suit dismissed, but that request was denied and the date for the hearing was set.

UNICEF Halloween party

A Halloween party was given during the weekend at the First Baptist Church in Mitchell, arranged by Mrs. Wilma Webb, chairman.

Decorations and games were planned by leader Miss Robin Harnetiaux and Acteen members, Phyllis Harnetiaux, Kathy Waldo, Lola Burton and Janice Barnes, assisted by Debbie Elmore and Keith Rabey.

Black and orange streamers with ghosts, witches and "bat mobiles" decorated the fellowship hall and favors were pumpkin nut cups.

There was a "spook house" for the younger children and a costume judging contest. During the evening the young people went door-to-door in the neighborhood collecting for UNICEF.

Serving as judges were the Rev. W. J. Richardson, Lowell Burton and Hector Lynn. Prizes were awarded to

Hospitality chairmen were Mesdames Judy Barnes, Pat Waldo, Virginia Harnetiaux and Faye Burton.

A chili supper was served to about 50 people.

Costume party for Cub Pack 7

St. Joseph Church Hall was festively decorated in autumn and Halloween motifs last week for the October meeting and costume party of Cub Pack 7.

Cubmaster Andy Timko welcomed parents and cubs and costumes were judged by Sister Samuella, school principal, Ron Luebbert and Jim Perdue.

Prizes were awarded to Robert Pavier, most original; John Kettelhut, funniest; and Steve Knogl, scariest. A special prize was given Michael Yureck for the cleverest costume in the younger brothers and sisters category.

Den 1 directed by Stan Yureck gave the opening ceremony and led the pledge of allegiance and song "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Awards given during the meeting were Wolf badge to Jon Kettelhut; silver arrow to Robert Pavier; and athlete to Brad Voss and Darren Yureck.

Den 1 received an award for parent attendance. A report was given by Den 1 Den 2 cubs on a visit to Loeb's Farm, where the group rode wagons through pumpkin and turnip patches and visited a "spook house."

The Webelos announced Dave Warren of Boy Scout Troop 7 attended their meeting and explained and demonstrated gun safety rules.

Games were played, including apple bobbing, shooting toothpicks through straws and darts, and Den 2 led a song fest.

Prizes were won by Allen Yureck and David Seilheimer.

Refreshments were served to the Cub Scouts and guests, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Kettelhut, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buente, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pavier, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Yureck, Mrs. Martha Jarnigan, Mrs. Kitty Voss, Mrs. Carol Carpenter, Mrs. Genese Baxter, George Vansler, Frank Greathouse, Stephen Knogl, Jim Perdue, Lt. Col. Robert Mungovan and those named.

GC studies property offer

An offer to donate to the city the property at 1302 Nineteenth Street which was destroyed by fire Aug. 13 was referred by the City Council Monday night to City Attorney George Filcoff for a feasibility study to determine if the land is worth accepting.

The building housed the Dorian Bridal Shop operated by Bride's World, Inc. of St. Louis. The city was notified by letter that the land value is appraised at $8,000 and the cost of razing the fire-damaged building would be approximately $1,500.

If the city accepted the offer, it would assume the cost of razing the building, the aldermen were told.

Robert Kelly, city building inspector, told the council that he also has discussed the possibility of a similar donation to the city of the building on the northeast corner of Delmar Avenue and 19th Street, which was partially damaged by the same fire that destroyed the Dorian shop.

He said a determination of that plan depends upon final insurance adjustments. If both buildings could be acquired as donations, Kelly suggested the possibility of building a municipal parking lot on the land of both buildings.

Alderman Ronald Coleman moved that the offer be accepted, with a second by Alderman Earl Baker, but after objections by some aldermen the motion and second were withdrawn in favor of a motion to refer the matter to the city attorney.

Bert Waltenberger, national vice-president, attended the event.

Among 50-year members honored were Reinhold Seibold, Alex Reszely, Joe Michaels, Otto Buer, Leopold Six Sr., Elizabeth Novosich, Vincent Debeve, William Brannan, Regional Vice-President Pauline Stevens, Filomena Gruber, Frieda Pula, Anna Michels, Lena Harmsen, Clara Brannan and Mrs. Leopold Six Sr.

J. PATRICK BUSCH New Sunmark post for J. Patrick Busch

The Sunmark Companies, a major confectionery and snack food corporation headquartered in St. Louis, has named Granite City resident J. Patrick Busch to the new position of director of administration. He had been corporate controller for the firm.

A graduate of Marquette University, Busch joined Sunmark in 1968 after serving in various accounting positions at A. O. Smith Corporation for 17 years.

As director of administration of Sunmark, Busch is responsible for corporate accounting and controls, management information systems and financial service.

The Sunmark Companies include Breaker Confections, Concorde Confections, Davids Sunmark, Sunfield Foods, Sunline Brands and Sunmark Manufacturing.

A member of the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church parish board here, Busch is scoutmaster of the Boy Scout Troop Five.

He attended a centennial celebration plans at his church and was active in the observance at which Msgr. L. J. Mattingly marked his 40th anniversary as a priest.

Busch formerly served as controller of the A. O. Smith frame plant in Granite City.

Town bills of $17,695 ok'd

Bills totaling $17,695 were ordered paid from Granite City Township accounts by the Granite City Council, meeting Monday night at the town board of auditors.

Bills included $5,225 from the town fund, $12,377 from general assistance, and $85 from federal revenue sharing funds.

Town fund bills included $375 for rent, $3,766 for salaries and expenses, $154 for services and supplies, $100 for a custodian at the senior citizens' center, $547 for insurance and $300 per diem for the aldermen and mayor.

General assistance bills ordered paid included $200 for office rent, $1,477 for salaries, $1,361 for supplies and services, $136 for food, $40 for fuel, $751 for prescriptions, and $7,597 for food.

Revenue sharing bills approved included $38 for electricity, $13 for water, $31 for repairs and $10 for supplies, all at the senior citizens' center.

that Gitchio should be required to do his own engineering work and provide satisfactory solutions to drain the tavern site and the adjoining parking lot which is directly behind the car wash and Corral Liquors.

"The man (Gitchio) has not once come into a council meeting or brought in any plans to help this situation," Daves said. Alderman Ronald Coleman, also of the Seventh Ward, supported Daves in a suggestion that the construction work be held up until Gitchio produces plans that would help solve the problem.

David Maycock, 1526 Clark Ave., who served as spokesman for area residents, told the council Monday night that city officials had discarded the drainage problem with him and other residents. He indicated that the residents are willing to permit the construction work "if the drainage matter is solved."

He told the council, however, that the residents had another question pertaining to the issuance of a liquor license for the new tavern.

"We now understand that the tavern can use the same license that is issued to Corral Liquors. Is this consistent with the law?" he asked.

City Attorney George Filcoff said that his interpretation of the law is based on limits set by the courts. He noted that there were at one time regulations which established minimum distances between taverns, but that these were removed by court decisions.

"I can't possibly see how he can get by with one license," Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward replied.

"It is because the lounge is located on the same premises as the liquor store and can be considered the same as other 'tial' locations operated under one license," Filcoff said.

He likened the operation of outside beer gardens at taverns as two operations under one license.

$300 STEREO TAKEN
A turntable, amplifier and two speakers, worth a total of $300, were among items taken during a burglary at the home of Wayne Barnes, 4924 Hills Ave., which was reported at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. Also taken were some wrapped coins and prescription pills.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, said, "I disagree with the city attorney on more than one lot. That land is subdivided and part of it on Nameoki Road and part is on Johnson Road. I believe this is a technically to get a liquor license for the tavern."

Daves said that he would "like to see a second legal opinion. I have great respect for Mr. Filcoff, but I think two rulings are better than one on this issue."

During a discussion of possible solutions of the drainage issue, Brewer told the council that a storm water line to Clark Avenue would require an easement through the property of one of the residents along Clark Avenue.

One of the aldermen asked Maycock if one of the homeowners would be willing to donate such an easement.

Maycock referred the aldermen to Oliver Joseph, 1522 Clark Ave., who lives directly behind lounge site and is one of the principal objects to the tavern building. Joseph was asked if he would grant an easement for a storm water line through his property to reach Clark Avenue.

"He (Gitchio) is the one who has made this problem, let him solve it," Joseph replied.

GC man charged in threat to officer

James C. Keller, 62, of 3217 Davis Ave., was charged with aggravated assault and not having a firearm owner's identification card after he allegedly pointed a pistol at Granite City Police Sgt. Albert Diak and threatened to shoot him at 12:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Diak said he was called to the Keller home on a disturbance and when he arrived, Keller's wife let him in and alleged her husband was in a bedroom with a gun.

Diak said that at that moment a man appeared in the doorway, pointed a pistol at the officer and told him to get out, saying he was "going to blow your head off."

The policeman ran into the kitchen, pulled out his gun and aimed it at the man. Diak alleged the man said, "You shoot me and I'll shoot you." Diak related he talked the man into agreeing to let Mrs. Keller and Diak leave the house and the man told them both to get out.

Mrs. Keller first was taken to a neighbor's home and later was taken to the police station to aid officers. Lt. Col. George Teller telephoned Keller and talked him into agreeing to come out and discuss the situation. He came out of the house and was arrested. It was reported.

Officers said they found four pistols, a rifle, two shotguns and a bag full of ammunition in the house.

News notes

George A. Stinson, National Steel Corp. president and chairman, was named Wednesday as chairman of the 1976 U.S. Industrial Payroll Savings Committee by Treasury Secretary William E. Simon.

The committee since 1963 has encouraged sale of U.S. savings bonds through the payroll savings plan.

Cyclist dies after crash

Michael J. Mize, 24, of 2168 Lee Ave., died at 11:45 a.m. Monday at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, of injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident on West Chain of Rocks Road, a half-mile west of Route 3, about 7:40 p.m. Sunday.

State troopers said they could determine only that Mr. Mize's motorcycle was eastbound, went out of control and left the roadway, falling down.

Mr. Mize was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with multiple injuries and was transferred to the St. Louis hospital.

A lifelong resident of Granite City, he formerly was employed at National Lead Co.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Sharon Mize; two daughters, Michelle and Kimberly, both at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde (Mary) Mize; and a brother, Junior Mize, all of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

The sewer plan calls for collector and interceptor sewers to cover most of Chouteau and Nameoki townships which do not presently have sanitary sewer service.

These sewers will empty into the main Granite City sewer line on the Granite City Army Installation property and the sewage will be treated at the Granite City primary and secondary sewage treatment plants.

Areas of Venice Township without sewers, including Eagle Park Acres and State Park Place, will be served by separate sanitary sewers which will empty into the Collinsville sewage system and be treated by that city's treatment facilities.

The amount of funds which will have to be raised through the sale of bonds will depend upon the amounts of the construction bids received.

organized strictly for local work, the advisers pointed out. Its slogan "Organization For Youth By Youth" — was geared to the principle of setting high standards and a good example for and by youth. Parsons said this week.

The members' many accomplishments in the fields of charitable endeavors, athletics, character building, leadership and brotherhood have made it the most successful independent youth club in the history of Granite City, the founder noted.

Although they worked for many charitable causes, their own greatest pride was that they were entirely self-sustaining, choosing work projects and activities which allowed the club financial independence and greater self-pride and accomplishment for themselves, Parsons said.

Declining interest by today's young people in the ethics, objectives and the high standards demanded of Roca members was among the determining factors in dissolving the organization, it was learned.

Parson relinquished the club's leadership when he left here in 1970 and moved to San Francisco, Calif. He had owned and operated a beauty salon for 10 years in Granite City and also taught cosmetology here for six years.

In the west coast city, Parson is employed as director of styles and grooming by Sparrow's Hair Replacement Co. of San Francisco.

during 1976 will be $199,285 less than it was in 1975. The 1975 income in revenue sharing funds also was down $115,498 from that of 1974, he said. The reduction is attributed to a decrease in population of incorporated areas.

More than $400,000 of the reduced revenue in the general fund will result from plans for a faster distribution of taxes collected during the summer of 1976. This will mean funds will not remain on deposit long enough to accrue interest.

Vouard said the actual earnings from interest on deposited tax funds during 1975 amounted to $215,964. General fund revenue from interest accounts this year is projected at $107,000.

Patricia Kawula becomes Mrs. James C. Haefner

Boquets of white, yellow and bronze mums decorated Bothwell Chapel at McKendree College, Lebanon, for the wedding on Oct. 11 of Miss Patricia Lee Kawula and James Christopher Haefner.

Organist Mrs. Sue Malina accompanied Miss Eric Mills, who sang "The Lord's Prayer," "The Wedding Song" and "Sheep May Safely Graze." Preceding the service, the organist played "O Perfect Love."

The Rev. Noel Gehm officiated at the double ring ceremony at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A reception in the Upper Deneen Center at the college followed.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kawula, 3232 Carlson Ave. The groom is a son of Mrs. Walter Weber, 415 Hillcrest, Lebanon, and the late Howard Haefner.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of Alencon lace and a portrait neckline, edged with a scalloped lace ruffle.

The semi-full A-line skirt of bridal satin and candlelight silk organza was made with a deep ruffled flounce of Alencon lace.

She wore a lace-edged chapel length veil of bridal illusion and held a cascade of gardenias and pink Sweetheart roses, with trailing ivy.

Matron of honor Mrs. Douglas Kenward, a sister of the bride, chose a long dress of per-simmon quiana designed in princess style with a deep V-neckline and softly draped skirt.

The bridesmaids, Miss Susan Klyasheff and Miss Cathy Ortolan, were attired in identically styled gowns in moss green quiana.

Each held a bouquet of mums, carnations and baby's breath. Sara Kenward, the bride's niece, was dressed in a long cotton frock in natural color, with touches of red roses, with touches of baby's breath. Mrs. and Mrs. Weber hosted a rehearsal dinner at Koutio's in Collinsville.

A 1974 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a bachelor's degree in education, the former Miss Kawula is employed as a substitute teacher.

The groom received his bachelor's degree in education in 1974 from McKendree College. He is employed at Swift Chemical Co.

College Fair Night Nov.-21

Mrs. J. R. Thrane presented a slide program on Cottey College, located at Nevada, Mo., and sponsored and funded by the PEO Sisterhood, at last week's meeting of Chapter HT in the home of Mrs. Wayne Carlisle, 3157 Davis Ave.

She announced that Sally Seater, a field representative for the college, will be in St. Louis for the College Fair of National Association of College Counselors on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 21-22, at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn.

The fair will be in session from 1:30 to 8:30 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and is expected to attract 7,500 students from the greater St. Louis area.

Mrs. Thrane said any local students interested in attending may talk with Miss Selma Nelson or Mrs. Robert Maxwell, both at South High School, regarding information and transportation arrangements.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Elmer Gruen, president. Mrs. John Hutton gave a report on the Metro-East Rectiprocity luncheon held in East St. Louis on Oct. 21.

After the meeting Mrs. Carlisle served refreshments to 22 members. On Nov. 11 members will meet at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. S. T. Nasir to celebrate the chapter's 10th birthday.

FORMER RESIDENTS NAME DAUGHTER SHERRY

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Teller of Cabot, Ark., former residents of Granite City, are announcing the birth of a daughter on Oct. 26 at the Memorial Hospital, North Little Rock, Ark.

The infant has been named Sherry Michele. She weighed six pounds, 11 1/2 ounces.

Copy machine among PTA projects

Progress of a candy sale, which will continue through November under sponsorship of Niedringhaus School PTA, was reviewed by Mrs. Frieda Krause at a meeting held at the school last week.

Mrs. Marge McQuaide presided at the business session and announced various types of playground balls have been purchased for each class room from the proceeds of the candy sale held last year.

PTA members also plan to purchase a copying machine for the school and to set aside funds to buy fans for each classroom next spring.

After the business meeting Robert Bergen, resource teacher at the school, explained the new resource program and support team services group being implemented at the school.

GC Junior Service card party, bazaar

Tickets are available for a card party and Christmas Bazaar, to be held at 7 p.m. Nov. 13, at Tri-Mor Bowl, sponsored by the Granite City Junior Service Club, according to the chairman, Mrs. Carolyn Thornburg.

She said tickets, costing $1.50 each, may be purchased from club members, or by calling Mrs. Janet LeGrand, at 876-0816, or Mrs. Thornburg, at 931-3156.

A variety of prizes will be awarded at the game session. Anyone wishing to play a specific type of game is invited to bring the game and participate with other guests; the chairman said.

Bazaar items will include home baked goods, crafts, Christmas gift items and handmade ornaments, among other things, Mrs. Thornburg added.

He said the new program will detect difficulties in reading, math and perceptual motor areas and is structured to give individual attention to students in these areas. He added the program also will offer help and guidance to children with exceptional abilities.

Prizes for parent attendance were awarded to Mrs. Gwendolyn Berry's class and Mrs. Lancia Frizzo.

Class convenes in St. Charles

Mr. and Mrs. John Hutton of St. Charles, Mo., former residents, entertained members of the Harmony Class of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church in their home. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn.

A potluck dinner was served and a business meeting was conducted by Raymond Dix, newly elected president.

Harold Lynn gave the devotion, "Charles Wesley," a poem written by Ernest K. Emurian.

Plans were finalized for a Christmas party on Dec. 14 at Tony's Restaurant.

Later in the evening, the group enjoyed games in keeping with the Halloween theme. Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lynn, Mrs. Nannie Meadows, all of Granite City; and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Easterday of St. Charles, Mo.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Paddock, Mr. and Mrs. Charlene Young, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stuch, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dix, Mrs. Leona Cartwright and Mrs. Ruth Purkey.

Right to Life survey goes on

Members of the local chapter of the Right to Life organization have agreed to continue their telephone survey to determine the pro and con opinions of residents in the 23rd Congressional District on the pro-life subject.

A meeting of the chapter was held last week in St. Elizabeth Hospital library, with Mrs. Vickie Jacobs presiding. She said calls to the St. Clair County area have been completed and the committee will continue with calls in Madison County as requested by the Illinois Federation of Right to Life.

A talk and film presentation prepared by the chapter was given at a meeting of an area Parents Without Partners group. It was announced.

"Respect for Life" week activities included a march involving 70 people last month, Mrs. Jacobs said.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 24. All are open to the public.

LUTHERAN MISSION GUILD TO ELECT

The Mission Guild for Lutheran Women will elect officers at Tuesday's meeting at Trinity Lutheran Church, 535 E. Washington, Millstadt, Ill., according to the current officers.

A luncheon will be served at noon and the business meeting will start at 1 p.m. "Single Preachers" is the topic of the program. A free will offering will be taken for the Bethel Lutheran Home in Watertown, Wis.

Johnson School open house set

Open House will be held at Johnson School on two separate dates, with the first one at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 17, and a daytime observance arranged from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 2:30 p.m. on Nov. 18, the PTA president, Mrs. Virginia Apperson, has announced.

Mrs. Apperson said the regular "koffee klatch" meeting for parents will take place at 9:30 a.m., Nov. 26, and the next PTA board meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Chouteau finances improve

The financial picture for Chouteau Township has improved considerably. Mrs. Patricia Polley, town clerk, told the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors during its regular meeting Monday night.

She said the highway department, which has been in financial difficulties since expending large sums of money during 1973 flooding, is catching up on past debts, with the help of emergency flood reimbursements, the new special hard road tax and recent tax collections.

She said the funds the highway department has been receiving has enabled Township Highway Commissioner James Esley to pay many past due bills, including a $10,660 payment on a long-overdue oil bill.

She said all township funds benefited during the two weeks preceding the meeting through the receipt of additional tax money from Madison County Treasurer George Musso.

Received from Musso were $3,476 for the town fund, $2,029 for the general assistance fund, $3,198 for the general road and bridge fund, $3,142 for the permanent hard road fund, $329 for the highway department's new equipment fund and $329 for municipal retirement.

Mrs. Polley said the township also has received $218 interest from invested surplus funds, $120 in interest for the town fund, $75 for general assistance and $23 for the revenue sharing fund.

It was reported that increasing electricity and natural gas bills have caused the general assistance fund to run short.

The board agreed to transfer $2,000 from the food category to the utilities category to solve the problem.

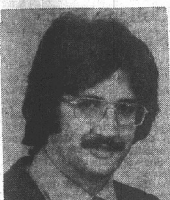

The board authorized Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks and Esley to enter into agreement with the county on the Manpower program's continuation by signing a prequalification statement.

The statement is an agreement that the township will observe the terms of the program, if it continues to participate. The county provides workers at no cost to the township under a federal Manpower grant, if the township agrees to attempt to find permanent work for the men when the program expires.

A complaint about unwanted yards and lots with high weeds was heard by the board and Mrs. Polley was requested to try to obtain a copy of a new bill which allows townships to cut weeds and bill the owner of the lot. The bill also allows townships to take a lien against the properties involved, until the bill is paid, the auditors noted.

THEFT FROM TRUCK

Three tarpaulins, valued at a total of $460, were stolen from the tractor-trailer of Bill Tension, Centralia, parked in the 3000 block of Edwardsville Road, it was reported at 11:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Gospel Singers at 2nd Baptist

A program of gospel singing, arranged by the Spiritual Gospel Singing Association, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Second Baptist Church, according to the pastor, the Rev. B. E. Dutton.

Featured groups will include The Sunday Editions from East St. Louis and The Revelators from St. Louis.

The Youth Choir from the host church, directed by Jack Jenkins, will open the program.

Dr. Friederich opens practice

Dr. Mark S. Friederich, a graduate of Granite City High School, has joined Dr. Jack Miller in the general practice of dentistry. Their offices are located at 2961 Madison Ave.

A 1968 graduate of GCHS, Dr. Friederich received his undergraduate degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1972.

He was among the first class of graduates to complete studies at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine, where he received his Doctor of Dental Medicine degree this year.

As a graduate dental student, Dr. Friederich was the winner of the Pedodontic Award, an honor bestowed by the American Society of Dentistry for Children.

He is married to Kay (Kimmie) Friederich, a speech correctionist in the Granite City School District, formerly of O'Fallon, Ill.

Dr. Friederich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Friederich of Granite City. His professional affiliations include the American Dental Association (ADA) and the Tri-Cities Dental Society.

City ok's plan for new GC Steel phone system

Excavation permits necessary to installation of a new telephone system for Granite City Steel facilities were granted by the City Council to Illinois Bell during a regular meeting Monday night.

The council approved the excavations for installation of new underground conduit and cable along the north side of 21st Street from Edison Avenue to Monroe Avenue, and along Iowa Street from 21st to 20th Streets.

Illinois Bell also plans to place a buried cable from Monroe to Edwardsville Road and along Edwardsville Road to the blast furnace. A new cable also is proposed along Sherman Avenue from 21st Street to the Granite City Steel central stores area west of 20th Street.

All of the overhead telephone cables along 21st Street will be removed. The utility said work is to start by Nov. 17 and the new service is scheduled to be in operation by April 3.

The aldermen Monday night also approved traffic control ordinances, including one that prohibits left turns from Washington Avenue into 22nd Street and another that prohibits parking on Madison Avenue from 15th Street northward for 120 feet.

Another traffic control ordinance establishes two-hour parking on Lynch Avenue from Maryville Road westerly for 200 feet.

The council referred to the City Plan Commission two additional requests for annexation of properties.

The petitions were filed by Wendell and Patricia Rigney, 2624 Highway 67, and by Charles and Alice Holbrook, 3272 Edgewood Avenue.

Federal job test Nov. 15

The Professional and Administrative Career Examination (PACE) will be given at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Nov. 15 at 8 a.m.

Individuals who have made application to the federal government to take the test are to report to Room 0210 in the Science and Technology Building.

The PACE written test will be given again in January, February, March, April and May of 1976.

Individuals who wish to take the examination must apply early enough that their applications are received by the 20th of the month preceding the month of the examination.

The federal government says it needs "persons with potential for advancement into responsible administrative and professional jobs."

For persons with a college degree or equivalent experience, the PACE examination offers the opportunity to compete for a wide variety of jobs in federal agencies across the nation.

Applications also will be accepted from students who expect to complete, within nine months, courses which would permit them to meet the requirements of the examination.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the office of University Placement Services at SIUE.

STEAL TRUCK TIRE

A truck spare tire and wheel, valued at $200, were stolen from underneath the trailer of Neal Foster, Eldon, Mo., while his tractor-trailer was parked on Cleveland Boulevard near Niedringhaus Avenue, he reported at 7:10 a.m. Wednesday.

Business school big business

The School of Business at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has become the largest undergraduate program on campus, fall enrollment reports show.

David J. Werner, dean of the School of Business, says this fall's enrollment is up 14.7 percent over last year. A similar increase was registered in the fall 1974 enrollment.

SIUE's total student enrollment is 12,212 on campus, an increase of 7.3 percent over last fall. Enrollment in the School of Business totals 1,348.

Werner attributes growth of the business school to two factors. "One, we have an excellent program; and two, today's student wants to go into an area where he or she will have a good chance to get a job after graduation," he said.

SIUE's business school has received national recognition. In April, it was awarded accreditation by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

Western Electric Co. also presented an award to the School of Business for having the most innovative program in management education.

Werner said many students are attracted to business because they want to specialize in a field and yet still get a good general education.

"It is hard for me to say which area in our business curriculum has the highest enrollment," the dean said. "Accounting and marketing, along with industrial relations, all have large undergraduate enrollments. But many of our students will study general business and pick up their specialty in their senior year."

More women and minority students are choosing business majors.

"When I first came to SIUE seven years ago, there weren't many women in our classes," he said. "But now the enrollment of women has grown considerably."

Many business classes are offered in the evening. Most of the students attending evening classes already have business experience and are returning to college to advance in their careers.

Shotgun is recovered

Donald Smith, 2505 Center St., reported at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday that his home had been burglarized and ransacked.

A shotgun and an assortment of jewelry were stolen, he said. Police later recovered the shotgun in a field between Center Street and the railroad tracks near 25th Street.

Entry to Smith's home was believed gained by removing a screen from a window in the rear family room. Several rooms and closets were ransacked.

Maryville PTA magazine sale

Plans for a fund-raising magazine sale to be held Nov. 14 through Nov. 19 were discussed by the Maryville PTA executive board at its meeting Monday evening at the school.

Mrs. Wilma Spurlock, president, introduced Thomas Hayes, a representative of a magazine sales company, who explained the campaign and the prizes which will be offered to the students selling the most magazines.

It was announced that another sweatshirt and jacket sales day is to be held in the near future for those who failed to get a sweatshirt or jacket with the school's name on it.

Final plans were made for a rummage sale the PTA will hold Friday and Saturday at the school.

A spring car wash to raise funds for a proposed sixth grade spring trip, possibly to Springfield, was discussed.

The board also reviewed plans for the upcoming Nov. 17 open house and PTA meeting at the school.

Nameoki church to observe 25th year

Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, will observe its silver anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 16, according to the pastor, the Rev. Don F. Pierson.

Events planned include a recognition service at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, followed by a silver anniversary tea at 2 p.m., when former pastors and members will convene for a social afternoon.

The Rev. Pierson reported the church held its first services at the Nameoki School until the present structure was completed.

An anniversary committee is collecting memorabilia from members to be displayed at the afternoon affair, the minister said.

Roundtable meeting place is changed

The regular Cub Scout Roundtable meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 11, at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church instead of Coolidge Junior High School, due to the holiday, according to Charles Buford, Roundtable commissioner.

Theme for the meeting will be Christmas and will feature several craft instruction classes for leaders, committee members and other scout volunteers.

Each one attending is requested to bring a homemade Christmas tree ornament to decorate a holiday tree and to bring canned foods for the goodwill basket, Buford added.

FALLS FROM PORCH
Larry Anderson, 28, of 3032 Iowa St., was reported in good condition today at Pirmin Desloge Hospital after falling from a second floor porch at the apartment of Cathy Slayton, 3504 Rhodes St., Madison. He was taken unconscious to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:40 a.m. today and then transferred to St. Louis.

Party honors Angela Shipp

A Rageddy Ann and Andy theme was used by Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Shipp to decorate their home at 11 Paul Drive for a party honoring their daughter, Angela, on her third birthday.

Refreshments were served by the hosts to the guest of honor's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Frith and Mrs. Loreta Shipp, and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Ann Ritter.

Also present were Mrs. Terri Koelker and children, Sara and Sherrie; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dickey and daughter, Carrie; and Dale and Jeff Shipp.

Seniors' style show in Venice

The Madison Golden Age Bell Ringers, directed by Mrs. Dorothy Lombardi, will provide the entertainment at the "Harvest Tea and Style Show" from 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday at the Venice Recreation Center, 305 Broadway, Venice.

Sponsoring the annual affair is the Venice Madison Silver Bells Senior Citizens Club. Mrs. Gertrude Young is serving as chairman.

Mrs. Young said the public is welcome to attend and tickets, costing $1 per person, may be purchased at the door Sunday. A display of artwork also is planned, she reported.

Alpha Xi hosts party for youth

About 15 young adults, sponsored by the Tri-Cities Association for Retarded, were entertained last week at a Halloween party in St. John United Church of Christ fellowship hall.

The party was organized and hosted by Alpha Xi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority. Games were played and dancing was enjoyed.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and each young guest was presented a favor.

Plan meeting on drainage problem

Trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District agreed in a meeting here today to arrange a meeting with highway department officials, the Illinois Department of Water Resources, the Corps of Army Engineers and Nameoki Township officials to determine responsibility for drainage projects in the Dobrey Slough area.

The action followed a request by Helen Hawkins, an advocate of drainage improvements in Dobrey Slough, that the levee district transfer $40,000 to $45,000 in funds originally set aside for right-of-way, to sink wellpoints to lower the water table in the slough area.

Trustees told Mrs. Hawkins that it was a responsibility of the property developers and town officials to get the water to ditches and drainage outlets maintained by the levee district.

Dinner for Lucas to aid campaign for recorder

Alan J. Dixon, announced Democratic candidate for governor, will be the speaker at a dinner for the recorder post Lucas, Madison County recorder of deeds.

The fund-raiser, at $10 per plate, will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 12, at the American Legion Club House in Edwardsville. Lucas is seeking re-election to the recorder post he now holds.

Dixon, who announced his candidacy in October, is of Belleville and currently is serving as Illinois state treasurer. He previously served numerous terms in the Illinois legislature.

Lucas won election to the county post upon the retirement of former recorder James Champan of Collinsville. Lucas also is mayor of Maryville.

Tickets are available at the recorder's office or may be obtained from Chris Costoff, Carl Seka, 402-6363; Joe Bardill, 654-655; Edward Voumard, 877-4330; James Augustine, 637-2130.

Madison to annex two block area

The Madison City Council voted Wednesday night to begin proceedings to annex the South side of Harris street now in Nameoki Township.

The annexation would affect only the 1900 and 2000 blocks, occupied by 16 families.

Second Ward Alderman Richard Klimer said, "We had a meeting today with Nameoki Township officials and they seem agreeable."

A petition, signed by residents of the affected area, requesting the annexation, was presented to the council two weeks ago.

Robber gets bank bag, $68

A robber took a bank bag containing $68 from an employee of the Olympic Service station, 20th and Adams streets, at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Don Boyer, the employee, said he had just closed and locked the station for the night and was walking toward his car when a man, crouched between the building and two gasoline pumps, said, "Throw the bag over here," and told Boyer to leave.

The employee said he saw a glint of light which may have come from a weapon, so he complied. The bag is a green zippered bag with the name of an Edwardsville bank on it.

Leibold trial to end today

The jury trial of Gerald L. Leibold, 37, of 5014 Lakeview Drive, on a murder charge, was expected to go to the jury early this afternoon.

Leibold is charged with fatally shooting James Lee Brandon, 27, of 1832 Maple St., at Brandon's home July 28. Leibold also was shot in what police allege was an exchange of gunfire between the two men.

File daily charge

Granite City police arrested Sharon Wiley, 29, of 1719a Edison Ave., at her home at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday and charged her with forgery.

Police allege she used a stolen $175 Department of Public Aid Check at Cohen's Market, 2301 Illinois Ave., earlier this year. She had been released on her own recognizance from the Granite City Jail early this week after being charged with three other forgery counts.

CHARGED IN SHOOTING

Dillard Eugene Carroll, 40, of Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, was arrested Wednesday by Madison County sheriff's deputies and was charged with attempted murder. He allegedly walked to the car of Jackie Ray Bush, 16, of 225 W. Chain of Rocks Road, near Bouleau Island, Aug. 16 and fired a shotgun blast through Bush's car window, the blast severely injuring Bush's arm and hand for Carroll was set at $75,000.

LOSS MAY HIT $1,000
An inventory was being taken this week at the B. F. Goodrich store, 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, by Madison County sheriff's deputies and was charged with attempted murder. He allegedly walked to the car of Jackie Ray Bush, 16, of 225 W. Chain of Rocks Road, near Bouleau Island, Aug. 16 and fired a shotgun blast through Bush's car window, the blast severely injuring Bush's arm and hand for Carroll was set at $75,000.

SKIN, SCUBA CLASS

Warriors to face Hinsdale Central in state soccer tournament

MUDDY PLAYING SURFACE causes players to lose their footing, as shown here, in Tuesday's sectional soccer championship game. GCHS North Steelers include Kevin Gavlick (7) and Steve Szeles (12). The Warrior at right (26) is Mike Anslin.

South defeats North 1-0 in sectional on Fernandez goal

Granite City, one of the state's leading soccer powers, will be a part of the fourth Illinois soccer tournament, just as it was in the first three. The charter state champion Warrior kickers will see action at Normal, Ill., tomorrow, thanks to South's 1-0 win over GCHS North Tuesday afternoon at North High.

The Warriors and Steelers earned the right to play for the sectional championship by conquering all opponents in their sub-sectional tournaments last weekend.

Only score of the game was a goal by Rick Fernandez after seven minutes of the second quarter. There are four 15-minute periods in Illinois high school soccer, and the non-stop nature of the action keeps fans constantly on the edge of the seat or leaping to their feet.

There was extensive audience approval for both Coach Gene Baker's Warriors and Coach Bob Kehoe's Steelers. The South squad was somewhat more dominant than North, which had ousted the Warriors in the sectional title game a year ago. Both teams were hampered by field conditions due to rain Monday evening and during part of Tuesday. The turf was muddy, and there were pools of water on both sides of the midfield stripe.

South attempted 22 shots on North's goal while the Steelers attempted seven. Steeler Goalkeeper Rick Demaree was credited with nine saves and Warrior Goalkeeper Randy Lyle with two.

With players slipping and sliding on the field, there were numerous fouls, 24 by South and 19 by North. The Warriors attempted to score early and kept up the pressure. They opened with David Goldschmidt's cornerkick to Mark Spirtell in front of the Steeler goal. Spirtell passed the ball to Fernandez, who tried a shot from just outside the penalty area. His kick was wide of the right side of the goal.

Later in the first quarter, Warrior Gary Phelps inbounded the ball at North's end of the field to Goldschmidt, who attempted to head the ball into the net. But Demaree leaped high into the air to make the catch. Demaree was kept busy throughout the quarter. Once Warrior Fernandez and Steeler Kevin Gavlick battled for possession and a foul was called.

Steeler defenders formed a wall about 10 yards in front of their half to defend against a free kick, on the foul call, by South's Goldschmidt. His kick cleared the line of defenders, but Demaree deflected the ball away with a hand.

North posed a potential scoring threat late in the period when an inbound throw by Warrior Dave Marler was followed by a scramble for possession. South's Rick Becherer came up with the ball and attempted a side pass, which was intercepted by Gavlick.

Gavlick drove into Warrior territory, passing off to a teammate who dribbled to within striking distance of the goal before a defender got a foot on the ball, kicking it away downfield.

With a minute left in the first period, after several Warrior attempts to go into scoring position failed, a Steeler effort left victim to poor field conditions.

North's Dave Robertson took a South downfield kick and attempted to head the ball back across the midfield line into Warrior territory. But the Steeler slipped and fell in the mud, enabling South to carry the ball out of play. Early in the second period, following a foul on a North player, Fernandez knocked down a free kick at the Warrior goal by North's Kevin Marcus. South's Lyle later cleared the ball away from his net with a downfield boot which was picked up by Warrior Gerard Alvarado in Steeler territory. Alvarado passed to Fernandez, who started a series of head passes, first to Spirtell and then to Renaldo Gonzalez.

Gonzalez began dribbling down the middle of the field toward North's goal. Nearing the Steeler goal, the Warrior ball handler was tripped up when three North defenders slipped in the mud and fell in front of him. This gave the Warriors a penalty shot from an angle. Fernandez got behind the ball, 12 feet from the net, and sent it speeding in for a 1-0 score just as the goalie fell to his right in an attempt to stop it.

The first half ended with the ball going out of bounds after a series of midfield plays looked almost like a volleyball game, with players on each side of the line heading it back and forth to one another.

"We switched to a full defensive system in the second half," said South's Baker. "With one player forward and then a line of four with another line of four behind it and one defender back at the goal with Lyle." The switch appeared to thwart several attempts by North to get into scoring position.

The Steelers nearly succeeded in deadlocking the contest late in the third quarter. Demaree sent the ball sailing away from his goal and into the Warriors' end, with Clifford Stefanoff downing it near the left sideline.

A pass to Perry Hartwick in the middle drew South's defenders to the receiver and Hartwick quickly passed back to Stefanoff, who had moved near the corner just to the side of South's net.

Becherer, the player assigned to help Lyle defend the goal, kept his eye glued to the ball as Stefanoff's kick sent it sailing into the air toward him.

Surrounded by several Steelers at the mouth of the goal, Becherer went above them heading the ball away.

The Steelers continued applying pressure throughout the remainder of the contest, forcing Lyle to meet shots in the goal area several times. With 22 seconds showing on the clock, Kehoe instructed all his players to move in on the attack if the Steelers should gain possession. But South's defense took the ball and turned it into a drive into Steeler territory as the game ended.

Warrior fans swarmed the field, some shouting and some crying, as their team accepted the sectional champions' award. Then, in unison, the South students began shouting, "We're Number One."

Trojans at Pacific tomorrow

Madison High School will get one last try tomorrow at supplying Trojan football fans with a winning season record, in an 8 p.m. contest at the Pacific, Mo., Khouy League Park field.

Madison now has five wins and five losses after winning for the past three weeks — 22-12 over Calhoun, 20-12 over Mater Dei of Brees and 20-19 during the weekend over Jerseyville. In last year's contest with Pacific, Trojan Joe Young topped the 1,000-yard season rushing mark and garnered his eighth touchdown of the season for Madison. He has since graduated.

This week, if Trojan Dwight Chiller attains 79 yards rushing, he will top 1,000 for 1975. A 185-pound senior, Chiller has gained 921 yards on 88 carries and tallied nine of Madison's 19 touchdowns in 10 games.

Of his total yardage, 532 came in Madison's last three wins — 145 against Calhoun, 204 against River Dei, and 183 against Jerseyville.

Pete Pecurka is Madison's second-leading rusher with 250 yards on 85 carries and Quarterback Mike Woods has 171 on 43 attempts with four TD's. Madison has netted 1,886 yards on the ground to foes' 1,238. Opposing quarterbacks have completed 31 of 149 passes for 990 yards, and Woods has connected on 27 of 90 aerials for 476 yards.

Pacific, guided by second-year Coach Bob Thomas, will be hoping to win its second game of the season tomorrow, having defeated Owensville 26-15 last weekend after eight straight losses.

Its losses were 40-0 to Hillsboro, 35-0 to Borgia, 14-6 to St. Clair, 8-6 to Herman, 42-7 to Union, 35-0 to Sullivan, 19-6 to Granite City High School South's soccer Warriors will compete tomorrow in their third Illinois High School Association state soccer tournament in the meet's four-season history. South captured sectional honors here Tuesday afternoon with a 1-0 victory over GCHS North.

The Warriors won the first-ever state title in 1972, placed third at state in 1973 and failed to get past the 1974 sectional last year, losing 2-1 to the North High Steelers. North was eliminated at the state meet last year in a quarterfinal game, tying for fifth place.

South, coached by Gene Baker, will take its 19-22 record and a 17-game winning streak into competition at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow on the artificial turf at Illinois State University at Normal against Hinsdale Central, which has a 14-4-2 mark.

Quincy Sr. High (10-3-2) and Park Ridge's Maine East (12-3) will open the tournament in a 9:30 a.m. contest Friday. Berwyn's Morton West (15-2) and Chicago Senn (12-1-2) are paired at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow. Following the South-vs.-Hinsdale game, it will be North's field's New Trier West (15-3) vs. Villa Park's Willowbrook High School (15-4) at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Semifinal contests tomorrow evening match the morning winners at 6:30 p.m. and the South-Hinsdale and New Trier West-Willowbrook survivors at 8:30 p.m.

Schools beginning Friday evening at Hancock Stadium will meet at 2 p.m. Saturday at Normal for the state championship game.

New Trier West is the defending champion and has a four-year mark of 112-22-8. Coach Robert Swan's Cowboys captured last year's title with a 1-0 verdict over Wheaton Central in the fourth overtime. GCHS South's victory total leads all the contenders. But New Trier West topped Maine East 3-0 and GCHS South 2-1 during the regular season.

Willowbrook has won ten straight.

Warrior Coach Gene Baker's career record of 56-7-4 tops all the other competing coaches except Senn Coach James Pastorsky's 65-6-3. Senn has been at state three of the four years the tournament has been held.

Quincy, which reached the state meet last year, is in only its second year of interscholastic soccer. The Blue Devils this season beat Hinsdale Central 4-3 but lost to South's Warriors 4-1.

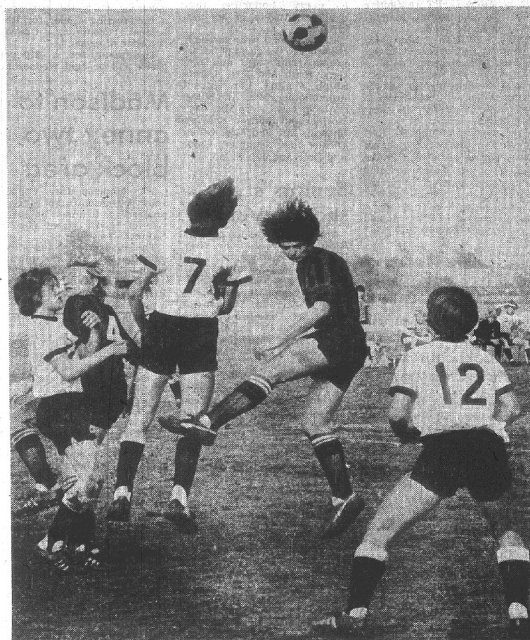

Penalty kicks after the fourth overtime will be used to decide advancement in the quarterfinal and semifinal rounds at Normal. But there will be no limit to overtime in the championship game.

Washington and 22-12 to St. James, all Missouri schools. Pacific played its finest contest against Owensville, setting a school record for rushing in a single game with 413 yards. Tailback Darrell Brown netted 194 yards of that total.

The only returning starter from last year's 5-5 team is Senior Tackle Jerry Grodie, 6-5, a 225-pound all-state tackle last year.

Running out of the I formation with Brown are Dale Goodwin, 6-1, 195, and Glen Grieg, both are juniors.

Quarterback Tom Fischer, a junior, has reached Sophomore End Alan Grieg with three TD aerials this season. Fischer has scrambled for 94 yards and one TD.

HAIR-RAISING COMPETITION for the sectional soccer title. A Warrior and Steeler Kevin Gavlick (7) attempt to head the ball in the directions they desire. No. 4 of South High is Greg Feigl, North's No. 12 is Steve Szeles.

Grid Steelers host O'Fallon

GCHS North will host the Panthers of O'Fallon tomorrow in an 8 p.m. gridiron contest at the Granite City Stadium on Fehling Road. It will be the season finale for both teams.

Coach Tom Wyrastek's Steelers will seek their first victory since Oct. 10, when North High defeated Assumption 26-6.

North later played to a 14-14 tie with Belleville Althoff, and bowed 21-0 to DeSmet of St. Louis and 24-20 last Friday at Mattoon.

Quarterback Greg Corey, 6-0, 165-pound junior, will attempt to add more yardage to the 1,139 attained thus far in 82 completions of 157 aerials. Senior Larry Schleicher, 6-0, 165, has been on the receiving end of 31 passes for 599 yards. On the ground, North High has netted 1,079 yards, including 445 yards by Junior Bruce Jateff, 6-0, 185.

Now with a 5-5-1 record, the Steelers have allowed 102 points while North's offense has put 145 on the scoreboard.

O'Fallon, a member of the Mississippi Valley Conference, has a 3-6 record after defeating Triad 41-15 last weekend.

It was the Panthers' first victory in a four weeks. They opened the season with losses of 6-3 to Mount Vernon, 30-0 to Edwardsville and 35-20 to Highland before defeating Wood River 7-0 and Jerseyville 22-14.

O'Fallon also lost 41-7 to Mascoutah, 25-22 in double overtime to Bethalto and 14-0 to Roxana. Last year's 3-6 record marked the first losing season O'Fallon had suffered since Coach Bob Seates introduced the sport there in 1969.

The Panther defense has six returning lettermen — Brian Holland at 165, Jim Whitten at Noted author speaks tonight at South High

David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade," will speak at 7:30 p.m. today at Granite City High School. No admission will be charged to attend the public meeting.

Wilkerson's book relates his initial efforts to reach and rehabilitate street gang members during the gang wars of the late 1950's and early 1960's.

Translated into 32 languages, the book has surpassed the 10 million mark in sales and was made into a feature length movie in 1970 with Pat Boone playing the role of Wilkerson.

The author is noted for his outspokenness with teenagers on the subject of drugs, sex, alcohol, rebellion and related issues of current concern.

FOOT INJURED

Bruce West Jr., 15, Glen Carbon, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday after a car ran over his left foot, causing a fracture. X-rays were taken and a splint was applied.

INTENSITY OF THE CONTEST is reflected in the faces of the opposing soccer players here Tuesday. Robert Yount (8) is shown kicking the ball for North. His

Heard in '1,000 yards club' at Madison High

Freshman James Heard this season has joined an elite list of Trojan football players who have rushed for more than 1,000 yards in a single season during their first year of competition at Madison High School.

Members of Madison's freshman 1,000-yard club, as recalled by varsity mentor Al Vander Haar, within the past 10 years are:

Ed Chandler, who also ran the 100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds; Chris Stanley, who reached 2,000 yards in one season; Dewayne Shaw; James Youngblood, who ran the 100 in 9.7 seconds; Gerald Ponell, and Joe Jenkins, who ran the 100 in 9.5 seconds and led Madison in his sophomore year to move to California, where he took all-state honors in football.

Heard runs 40 yards in grid gear in 4.7 seconds.

Sellmeyer an official for state soccer meet

Six men with a total of 76 years experience as soccer officials have been named for the fourth annual Illinois High School Association boys' state soccer tournament, scheduled for Friday and Saturday on the artificial turf of Hancock Stadium, Illinois State University, Normal.

Named field officials are: Roy Carlberg of Middlebury, Nels Dahlquist of Crystal Lake, William Jones of Evanston, Cornelius Lufkin of Antioch, Edward Rubin of Wheeling and John Sellmeyer of Venice.

Jones and Sellmeyer are working the state tournament for the first time.

Dahlquist, who has been officiating soccer for 24 years, worked last year's state tournament.

A retired plant superintendent at Oak Electronics in Crystal Lake, he has officiated at several National Collegiate Athletic Association university division tournaments. Lufkin, an 18-year veteran soccer official, is a self-employed painting contractor and worked the state meet in 1973. Jones, a watchmaker, has been a soccer official for 17 years.

Sellmeyer, a teacher at Granite City High School South who coached Granite City to the team title in the first state tournament, has been a soccer official for 10 years and has worked the Missouri state tournament.

In addition, he is an IHSA registered referee.

Rubin, an IHSA-registered official in boys basketball and baseball, has been a soccer official for four years and worked last year's state tournament. He is general manager of Store-O-Matic Vending Co. Carlberg, a freelance commercial artist, worked last year's tournament and has been a soccer official for three years.

'5th quarter' honors South High players

A "tripping over the wires" award was presented to Warrior Coach Stan Wojcik during a "fifth quarter" held during the weekend in the Granite City High School South cafeteria.

Sponsored by the Red Peppers, the occasion honored members of Warrior football, soccer, cross-country and golf teams who are seniors this year.

The program included humorous awards, such as Coach Wojcik's award, which noted that he became entangled with head phone wires during Saturday's South football victory.

Warrior Quarterback Brian Burjan was given an "interception award."

Attending were 75 team members, 40 parents and 150 representing the Red Peppers. The event will be repeated in the spring to salute other senior Warrior athletes.

Otis to help honor 140 in tackle football club

The Granite City Little Rascal Boys' Tackle Football Club will honor its four teams and 140 participants, including cheerleaders, Monday evening with a 7 o'clock award banquet at the Croatian Home hall, Tenth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Guest speaker will be James Lloyd Otis, a starting running back with the St. Louis Cardinals' National Football League team.

A graduate of Ohio State University, Otis was chosen as most valuable player in the 1969 Rose Bowl game and was a two-time all-Big 10 choice.

Originally a ninth-round draft choice of New Orleans in 1970, Otis was traded to the Kansas City Chiefs in 1971 and then was acquired by St. Louis in 1973.

In his "rookie" season with the Cardinals, Otis, 6'0 and 225 pounds, rushed for 664 yards and 189 yards on 19 pass receptions.

Born in Celina, Ohio, and now residing in St. Louis with his wife, Edward Graham and the couple's daughter, Otis will address on Monday four teams of the Granite City Club's three divisions.

Reagan-Ford primary race in state forecast

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau
When Ronald Reagan announces his candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination—and Rep. Philip M. Crane says he will—it will be a time of reevaluation in Illinois. That will be soon.

Crane should know it and when the former California governor is going to become a declared candidate. The Mount Prospect congressman is chairman of Reagan's Illinois campaign. "He's going to announce the week before Thanksgiving," Crane said in an interview, discussing Reagan versus President Ford in the Illinois primary March 16. How strong in Illinois is Reagan vis-a-vis Ford? There's no survey of relative strength and one would be inaccurate now, but this should become clear as soon as Reagan announces, Crane says.

He believes Reagan will give Mr. Ford pause in Illinois just as he already has in New Hampshire, leading off with a Feb. 24 primary. "Surveys of non-candidates in New Hampshire put Reagan only five per cent behind Pres. Ford," observes Crane, "and throughout the South as well."

"This is darned good for a non-candidate confronted by a President who is out campaigning widely on the hustings on his own behalf," Crane adds. He also points out that Reagan's campaign has raised about three-quarters of the Ford total, and the size of Mr. Ford's individual contributions are on the order of 10 to one greater than Reagan's. This suggests to Crane that non-candidate Reagan is getting a much larger base of support, incumbent Ford's base may be richer but narrower. While readily conceding that Pres. Ford has locked up top Illinois Republicans, including Sen. Charles H. Percy, and the Illinois Congressional delegation with the exception of himself, Crane says that's just it—the Ford support is top heavy.

He reiterated his conviction that Reagan has "grassroots" appeal. "I see no great rush in Illinois to work for Ford," Crane says. "But we are inundated literally by people wanting to work for Reagan." He cites Clayton Gaylord, a Rockford industrialist, who was "swamped" with offers of help when it was announced he was on the Reagan committee.

There's also Crane's anonymous Illinois Republican colleague in the House who says he's "officially for Ford, but see if you can't get Reagan to speak in my district, where he has lots of support." Percy, rushing as usual about the Hill, admits in a walking interview that the Ford campaign, of which he is honorary chairman, has its work cut out. "If Ford is 'wounded,' this can't help but give a boost to Reagan."

Percy appears to bank on early and thorough organization to gird Mr. Ford for the Illinois primary, emphasizing that the field work has been done and is being constantly reinforced. "But it will be a battle and we don't take it for anything less," he says. "Complicity will be the major enemy of Mr. Ford in Illinois."

Wm. Morris dies at 68

William A. Morris, 68, of 1911 Grand Ave., a retired steelworker, was pronounced dead at his home at 12:07 p.m. Monday by Raymond Thomas, Madison County Deputy Coroner.

Mr. Morris, who had been ill six years, was found by a neighbor who called the authorities. He had been under the care of a physician.

Born in Plasa, Ill., he resided there until he moved here 30 years ago.

Mr. Morris was employed 20 years at Granite City Steel prior to his retirement on Dec. 1, 1972. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Norma Jean Gary and a son, Billy Morris, both of California, and a sister, Mrs. Reba Cimmermaker of Alton and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Unjust tax methods led to a revolution, Howlett recalls

The American revolution was thrust out in the minds of the colonists, on the issue of unjust taxation, before it was fired, Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, told a group of tax experts last night.

Howlett was the featured speaker at a banquet of the Chicago Tax Club, held at Oak Brook. Attending were tax attorneys, accountants and tax experts of Chicago area business firms.

"The Bicentennial of U.S. Independence has a special meaning for men and women who are close to our system of taxation utilized to finance government," said Howlett.

"Before the Declaration of Independence in 1776, before the firing at Lexington and Concord in 1775, a revolution already had taken place in the eastern seaboard colonies of America.

"It was decided there should be no government without consent of the governed. There should be no taxation without consent of those to be taxed, whether expressed directly or through elected representatives.

"The revolution in the colonies' thinking was resolved in New England meeting houses, not on battlefields, John Adams made a distinction between the American Revolution and the War for Independence when he said:

"The Revolution was effected before the war commenced. The Revolution was in the minds and hearts of the people... This radical change in the principles, sentiments and affections of the people was the real American Revolution."

Gets $100 in house burglary

A man about 22 or 23-years-of-age was seen inside the home of James Stuart Jr., 2139 Lee Ave., when Stuart returned home Monday.

Stuart said he found the cellar door to his home open and entered to see a young man run through the living room and out the front door, which had been propped open. He ran south on Lee Avenue, the victim said.

The only thing known missing was $100 which had been in a vase on top of the refrigerator. The house was ransacked.

Entry was believed gained by prying open the cellar door and breaking the lock from the door between the basement and the kitchen.

The burglar was described as about 5' feet, 9 inches tall, weighing about 165 pounds, having medium-length dark brown hair, having a mustache and wearing a blue stocking cap, white shirt and blue denim pants and jacket.

STEREO RECOVERED

An eight-track stereo stolen from the auto of Ed Gates, 603 Jefferson St., Venice, was recovered by Venice police along with a black dress shoe, in the alley near Jefferson Street and Washington Avenue. The theft was reported by a witness who reported seeing two youths breaking into a car.

PEALMS 1:1... BLESSED IS THE MAN WHO WALKETH NOT IN THE COUNSEL OF THE UNGODLY.

The book of Psalms is not only a great work of praise to God, and of wisdom to the reader, but it also gives us valuable instruction on how to stay out of trouble.

We are to obey God's Word, the Bible. Jesus taught us that, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

We are not to listen to ungodly people. Receive not their counsel. They cannot help themselves — how can they help us? Jesus declared, "The blind lead the blind and they both fall into the ditch."

Do you want the blessing of God on your life? Then walk not in the counsel of the ungodly and you shall be blessed.

God wants you to be blessed. TODAY!

revolution. "It all started when England won the Seven Years War with France. It doubled the national debt and gave Canada and the eastern Mississippi Valley to England to administer."

"To pay the bills, England decided to tax the colonists. In 1764, Parliament passed the Sugar Act and started considering the Stamp Act. The colonies immediately protested.

"The colony of New York, in a petition to the House of Commons, said: 'An exemption from the burden of ungranted, involuntary taxes, must be the grand principle of every free state.

"Without such a right, there can be no liberty, no happiness, no security. Who can call that his own which may be taken away at the pleasure of another?"

"Resistance to the Stamp Act led to its repeal," Howlett continued. "But a chain of events had begun over the issue of taxation without representation. "Colonial leaders began with hopes of reconciliation. As legislation from the mother country became unbearable, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin and George Washington argued that the bonds with Britain must be broken.

"When the Continental Congress finally endorsed revolution, it promised the birth of a free nation, not the destruction of one.

"As we celebrate the Bicentennial, we should remember our founding fathers' total commitment to democratic principles.

"We, too, should make a commitment. We should stimulate the love of freedom they were willing to die for."

Howlett said Illinoisans have responded enthusiastically to projects of his own office to commemorate the Bicentennial.

More than 300,000 school children entered essays in a contest he sponsored on the theme, "What Is the Spirit of '76?"

More than 400,000 boys and girls submitted designs in a contest which produced the 1976 Bicentennial license plate.

Howlett is sponsoring another contest to name 76 all-Illinois great Americans. He also has sent a replica of the Liberty Bell on tour throughout the state.

New registration plan to hike license income

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett announced Monday that Illinois has formally applied to participate in a national uniform system of registration for second division vehicles which would substantially increase revenue from interstate trucking.

A resolution, signed by Howlett, was introduced last week to the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators at its national conference in Baltimore. If endorsed, Illinois would join 18 other states and one Canadian province (Alberta) as a member of the International Registration Plan. Concept of the plan is one registration plate for one interstate vehicle, avoiding multiplicity of registration and administrative costs to both industry and the state.

Approximately 140,000 vehicles are presently operating into and through Illinois on a reciprocal basis. Six of the present members of the registration plan are reciprocal states at this time: Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Texas, Virginia and Mississippi. Revenue derived from mileage traveled is divided among member states on a pro rata basis. This is determined by the number of miles traveled by each vehicle or fleet in a particular state as compared to the total miles traveled in all states. Trucking companies are presently required by state and federal regulations to maintain individual vehicle mile records as the fee percentage due each state is readily ascertained.

"This uniform registration would promote and encourage the greatest use of the nation's highway system by authorizing the proportional registration of fleet of interstate vehicles in the various states," Howlett said. "It would increase service to the public and afford greater flexibility to industry in use of interstate vehicles."

"This should prevent an increase in license fees and hold down transportation costs to consumers in addition to giving Illinois needed revenue from mileage sharing." When Illinois would begin to implement the new procedure for granting Illinois-based vehicles with other jurisdictions in January, 1977, it is anticipated that 25 to 30 states will be members of the International Registration Plan. Legislation which permitted Illinois to apply for membership in the plan was instigated by Howlett and passed during the past session of the General Assembly. It was favorably endorsed after study by the Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission, composed of the public and legal specialists in the state legislature.

Lawyers study policies on ads, specialization

The Assembly of the Illinois State Bar Association will meet Saturday to consider recommendations for permitting lawyers to advertise and to identify themselves as specialists.

The Assembly will meet during the ISBA midyear meeting which begins today and continues through Saturday at the Pick-Congress Hotel in Chicago. The ISBA Committee on Availability of Legal Services has prepared recommendations on lawyer advertising, which is now prohibited under the Code of Professional Responsibility. The code also bans Illinois lawyers from offering their services to the public as specialists in various fields of law.

The Committee on Specialization will present a set of recommendations for a system of specialization. The governing Assembly is made up of 127 members, elected from all parts of the state. At a luncheon today, local bar officers from around the state and ISBA committee and section personnel will be briefed on "The Delivery of Legal Services Crises," moderated by Lawrence X. Fusateri, president of the State Bar.

Three attorneys, Thomas S. Johnson of Rockford, Blair White of Chicago and James G. Hatcher of Peoria, will discuss several developments that could drastically alter the practice of law. These include advertising, law clinics, group legal services, and pre-paid and post-paid legal services. Following the luncheon, Fusateri and Johnson will answer questions about the delivery of legal services.

Other issues on the agenda of the Assembly, which is open to the public, include:

—Consideration of the use of six-person juries and non-unanimous verdicts in certain trials.

—Recommended rules for use of attorney assistants (paralegals).

—State of the Judiciary Address by Robert C. Underwood, chief justice of the Illinois Supreme Court.

—Selection procedures for judicial vacancies.

—Reconsideration of the Assembly position in support of decriminalization of marijuana use. An all-day education course on matrimonial law will be presented Friday. The luncheon speaker will be Dr. Thomas A. Harris, founder of the Institute of Transactional Analysis in Sacramento and author of the best-selling book, "I'm OK — You're OK."

Child labor law changes

Amendments have been enacted affecting the ages at which children may hold certain jobs, including agricultural jobs. Changes have also been made in the curfew law.

Decisions faced by consumers

By DR. ROWENA LUTZ, Director
Consumer Information Project
Southern Illinois
University at Edwardsville

Hardly a day goes by when we do not encounter some ways of utilizing consumer choices.

How we spend our money is determined chiefly by the principles and ideals by which we live, our plans for the future, and the cooperation of family members in determining and reaching goals.

Clearly defined values and specific objectives differ within every family and will change with the various life cycles of the family.

Therefore, it is significant that the family, as well as individuals within the family, determine the priorities that will be implemented in any given time.

The cooperation of the family members contribute to the effectiveness of reaching goals. Our values and goals are affected by various factors: our family, the community, our experiences, our needs and wants, the resources available, the abilities and skills the person or family may possess, and the quality of life one maintains or wishes to maintain.

Values are defined as the ideals by which we live.

Values give direction to life and should make a difference in living. But, the valuing process is full of choices.

In the marketplace, these choices are legion. One must continually ask, "What is the most important thing, or item, or experience?"

"Does this fill a need? A want? Or both?"

"Is it intended for a long-term use or is it needed immediately? Does it help in fulfilling long-range plans or not? Will I be pleased with the purchase?"

Asking ourselves these questions might help in purchasing the items most desired, rather than feeling dissatisfaction by not controlling our spending.

an equal "footing" with males under 16.

The Illinois State Bar Association said this week the only substantive change is removal of a section of the Child Labor Law which prevented girls under 16 from being employed in jobs that required them to remain standing continuously during performance of the work. No similar provision existed in the law for males.

Other prohibitions remain in the Child Labor Law. Children under the age of 16 may not be employed in a wide range of jobs which are potentially hazardous, including jobs involving power-driven machinery, cutting instruments, radioactive or chemically hazardous substances and almost all factory jobs.

The Child Labor Law does permit minors between 14 and 16 years of age to work in non-hazardous jobs outside of school hours and during school vacations.

A change in the law says that children must now be 12, instead of 10, to be employed in non-hazardous agricultural jobs. But the age restriction does not apply to members of a farmer's own family.

The Illinois curfew law, in effect since 1963, has also been amended to apply to persons under 17 years of age. Previously, the curfew applied to persons under 18.

The State Bar Association notes that the law previously said a person subject to the curfew could remain outside if accompanied by a responsible companion at least 21 years of age, if approved by a parent or legal guardian. The law has been changed to say the responsible companion need only be at least 18 years of age.

Talk on science, society

A Bicentennial lecture on science and society will be given Tuesday, Nov. 11, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by Raymond J. Seeger, a prominent scientist and humanist. The lecture, "The Humanism of Science," is scheduled at 3:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Seeger's presentation at SIUE is being sponsored by Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society of North America, in conjunction with the National Science Foundation and the university. Refreshments and a reception will follow the lecture. The entire university community and the public are invited.

According to Eva Ferguson, president of the Sigma Xi Club at SIUE, "Dr. Seeger's presentation will be of great interest to students and faculty in all disciplines.

"In addition to his long and productive career in various research areas in physics, he has been noted for his concerns regarding the humanistic aspects of the development and understanding of physics, together with its literary and social interrelations and its philosophical and religious implications."

Mrs. Ferguson said Seeger is known for his research in the foundations of quantum mechanics, the electric breakdown of solids, and shockwave phenomena. He has published many articles as well as seven books, and is the recipient of many awards, including the U.S. Navy Distinguished Service Award and the American Association of Physics Teachers Distinguished Service Citation.

Seeger retired recently from the National Science Foundation, where he held several executive positions. He is national historian of Sigma Xi and director of the Society's Bicentennial lecture series, as well as adjunct professor of applied science, George Washington University, and adjunct professor, American University.

BREAK INTO GARAGE
A side door window was broken to gain entry to the garage of Bernard Miller, 3230 Princeton Drive, but entry to the home from the attached garage was not gained, it was reported early this week. Nothing was known missing.

Forms due to license recreational vehicles

Pre-printed renewal applications will be mailed to recreational vehicle owners early this month for 1976 calendar year registrations. Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, announced Monday.

"Changing the RV registration period from the fiscal to calendar year will be complete when current registrations expire on Dec. 31," Howlett said. "This change affects motor homes, campers, trailers and camper shells."

On receipt of the pre-printed forms, RV owners may apply for reassignment of present license numbers through Dec. 31. Calendar RV plates will be sold over-the-counter beginning Dec. 1 at three secretary of state motor vehicle facilities in Chicago and on the first floor of the Centennial Building and Dirksen Parkway facility drive-in window in Springfield. Currently, there are 122,000 RV units registered in Illinois; 38,000 motor homes and campers, 43,000 trailers and 1,000 camper shells.

Variance hearings scheduled

Three requests for zoning variances will be considered by the Granite City Board of Appeals at its meeting Wednesday and three requests for zoning changes and eight requests for annexations will be considered by the city Plan Commission Thursday, Nov. 13.

Both boards meet at the city offices at 2301 Adams St., with the Board of Appeals meeting starting at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday and the Plan Commission starting at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 13.

Among the requests to be considered by the Board of Appeals is a request from the New You Co., requesting a variance to construct a new residence two feet from side property lines at 2807 and 2809 Indiana Ave. John Sobol applied for the petition. The property is an R-2 single family residential district.

Also to be considered by the appeals group is a request from Ray L. Hancock, 3009 National Ave., to construct a garage two feet from his side property line in an R-1 single family residential district, and a request from Ralph Coltrane, 3041 Willow Ave., to construct a garage four feet from his side property line in an R-2 district.

The Plan Commission is to consider requests from the owners of eight parcels of property who wish to be annexed into Granite City. The properties adjoin the West Granite City area.

Lots proposed for annexation are on Missouri Avenue at 2604, 2614, 2616, 2622, 2626 and 2628

Missouri, and at 2626 Logan Ave. and 2628 North St., lot 46.

The Plan Commission also is to consider three other requests. Fred Bolligen, 1634 and 1626 Pontoon Road, is requesting a C-1 commercial zoning classification for an upholstery shop. The property presently is zoned R-2.

The Assembly of God Church, Faith and Buxton avenues, is requesting an R-5 classification for a parking lot. The property presently is zoned R-2.

Both the Board of Appeals and the Plan Commission make recommendations to the Granite City Council. The council has the options to concur or override the recommendations.

JOSEPH WILLIS

Local serviceman receives promotion

Joseph A. Willis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Willis, 3201 Edgewood Ave., has been promoted to operations specialist second class with the U.S. Navy.

He is stationed aboard the USS Charles P. Cecil homeported in New London, Conn.

The local serviceman graduated from Granite City High School in 1970 and enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1972. He and his wife, the former Deborah Duncan, reside in Grafton, Conn. Willis was trained at the Great Lake Naval Station and has just completed two months special training in Puerto Rico.

Anti-burglary program

With the Christmas season approaching, burglaries to private homes increase, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation which reports that December traditionally records more burglaries than any other month of the year.

In an effort to help residents of the Quad-City area better protect their homes and property, the Madison Police department and Explorer Post 10-4 will hold a burglary prevention program at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 3, in the Madison Recreation Center.

There have been instances in which a quick-moving burglar has made off with as much as $5,000 worth of property from a home in a matter of ten to fifteen minutes, according to a police spokesman.

"All citizens 18 years of age or older are welcome to attend, and I hope they will mark their calendars now as I am sure that we will be able to give everyone some ideas and methods that could help stop a home or an apartment from being burglarized," Madison Chief of Police Frank Dutko said.

The program is being coordinated by Bruce Rotter, president of Explorer Post 10-4, Donald Bridick, juvenile officer for Madison, and Dutko, in cooperation with the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

The average loss figure from burglaries is over $650 million a year, according to insurance companies.

"More than half the burglaries are perpetrated by persons under 18, who usually don't know how to ransack a home for valuables quickly and efficiently. If a professional enters a home the homeowner is likely to suffer a much greater loss," Officer Bridick noted.

Police authorities said that a few simple precautions can discourage and thwart a burglar.

Editor from Kentucky is to be honored

Elijah Parish Lovejoy and Tom Gish are separated by 138 years of history, but an award that Gish will get at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale tomorrow will point up parallels in their careers as crusading editors. In a word, it's courage.

Lovejoy was the militant anti-slavery editor who paid the price of his fiery editorials when he died at the hands of an anti-abolitionist mob in Alton on the night of Nov. 7, 1837.

On the same date 138 years later, Gish, editor-publisher of a Kentucky weekly, will receive the Elijah Parish Lovejoy award for courage in journalism from the School of Journalism at SIUC. He will deliver the Lovejoy memorial lecture, which will be free and open to the public, at 8 p.m. in Lawson Hall 141.

Lovejoy had continued to publish his attacks on slavery despite mob destruction of two of his presses. He died defending his third press from the mob.

Gish, editor-publisher of The Mountain Eagle in Whitesburg, Ky., had his newspaper office destroyed by a fire that was labeled as probable arson. He was undeterred.

He moved his newspaper operation to the living room of his home after the fire. With the help of his family and a few friends, Gish had the week's edition in the mail only 12 hours late.

Lovejoy, despite ample warning in the form of threats, ridicule and mob action, continued to hammer away in editorials at the slavery issue, which was bitterly dividing the state and the nation.

Gish and his wife have published the tabloid newspaper in the small Appalachian town for 17 years.

Among other things, the Eagle has lashed out at secrecy in government and the legacy of coal companies—including stripmining and the breakdown of roads because of overloaded coal trucks.

A special target of the Eagle's editorial ire has been harassment of youths by police who wink at "king of the road" coal truck drivers.

Like Lovejoy, Gish has had to endure acts and threats designed to silence him. A coal truck driver threatened to burn Gish's office. A deputy sheriff said he wanted to see the editor-publisher dead. The Eagle has been the target of both advertising and subscription boycotts. Like Lovejoy, Gish has refused to keep silent.

Grace Lee Condor, 32, St. Louis, was injured when her car and the auto of Joe Lee Slate, St. Louis, collided on Route 203 at the railroad underpass near Eagle Park Acres, early this week.

She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for contusions to her forehead and right thigh. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Republican Women plan state workshop in area

Mrs. Josephine Oblinger of Springfield, president of the Illinois Federation of Republican Women, has announced that the State Board will hold its fall meeting and Federation Workshop at the Collinsville Holiday Inn on Nov. 12 and 13.

Following the board meeting on Wednesday, the public is invited to a reception at 8 p.m., hosted by the IFRW, to meet 1976 state and local candidates. Among honored guests will be Republican candidates for Congress, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, comptroller, state senator and representatives and local-level Republican candidates. Republican party officials, including county chairmen, also will attend.

The Illinois Federation of Republican Women will fall workshop will take place Thursday. Doris Deterding, chairman of the workshop and a member of the State Board, said women in Illinois who are interested in the Republican party are invited to attend the day-long session.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m., followed by breakfast at 8:30, a series of four workshops from 9:30 to 11, and a report from the State Board. Lunch at 12 with a talk by Health-Education-Welfare Undersecretary Marjorie Lynch and a repeat of the morning workshops will conclude the day. Registration with admission at 3:30 p.m. Theme of the workshop is "Women in the Know" and topics will be: (1) Ethics Law and Club Reporting, (2) Election Laws, (3) Group 76 and (4) Proposed Legislation for 76, the latter presented by James Washburn, Illinois House of Representatives minority leader.

The Madison County Federation of Republican Women's Clubs will participate in hosting the state workshop. The Republican League of Women in the greater Alton area will serve as hostesses, and the Edwardsville and Troy Republican Women's Clubs are making the decorations. The Granite City Republican Women's Club will operate the registration table, and Lewis and Clark Republican Women in Wood River Township will set up registration kits. Mrs. Sibyl H. Belliss, president of the Madison County Republican Women's Club, is urging women throughout this area to "take advantage of the opportunity to meet State Board members and learn how to be effective in the election year ahead."

For registration and further information, Quad-Cityans may call Doris Deterding, 465-7253.

Feeherty infant is christened

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Feeherty of St. Louis County celebrated friends and relatives during the weekend after the christening of their infant daughter, Kristine Marie Feeherty, who was born Aug. 28.

Mrs. Feeherty is the former Helen Marie Kukarola of Granite City. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert Muesenfechter officiated at the service at St. Martin de Porres Church. Godparents were Frank Grassmuck and Joann Cruise.

A buffet luncheon was served to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grassmuck and son, Kelly; Mrs. James Feeherty and Mrs. Margaret Feeherty, the infant's grandmother and great-grandmother, respectively; Ed Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kunkemuller and Vincent and Jennifer and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kutz and son, David, all of St. Louis County.

Granite City guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Kukarola, maternal grandparents; Carl and Jim Kukarola, Mr. and Mrs. David Cruise and son, David Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shields and son, Jeffrey; and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Aleman Jr. and sons, James and John.

Dresses make spring showing

The colors for Spring '76 will be red, white and blue, reflecting the Nation's 200th Birthday, and the clothing styles for women will be heavily weighted toward dresses, according to Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Marilyn) Lunsford of Marilyn's House of Fashion, 1331 Nineteenth St.

The couple returned this week from a buying trip to Dallas, Tex., where previews of coming spring styles, presented by the American Fashion Association, occupied their attention for six days.

Although the popular pant suit is not repudiated entirely by the designers for spring, interest was keyed on the return of the dress for daytime, casualwear and evening as evident in all collections.

Ordered by the Lunsfords from a new line — Paul of California — were 10 styles of dresses to one pant suit. Skirts are fuller, but gores, straight and A-line still are "in." No pleats were seen amid the new lines. Skirt lengths ranged from right above the knee to just below, Mrs. Lunsford said. Dresses "showed" lots of pockets, "the T-strap effect and some had the "obi" waist ties, fastening in front.

Many were made with brief cap sleeves, but the layered look remains in sportswear. The two-piece sweater dress was "very big" in the collections, she said.

Fabrics focused on polyester, Viana, Calcutta cloth, washable super-suede, boucle knit, denim and gauzes.

Beside the Bicentennial colors, mauve, pink, dusty green, ivory-cream, apricot and black and white predominated for spring. Stripes, whether horizontal, vertical or mixed, were in profusion.

Pant suits with calf-length jumpers and vinyl leather jackets, many with embroidered accents, and jumpsuits were shown. Calfans were worn with daytime and evening wear.

Accessories were most pronounced in the shows. Hats, including the return of turbans, flowers and scarves were popular. Small triangular scarves were worn on the hair in a variety of ways by the high fashion models with different clothing styles, Mrs. Lunsford said.

Long fringes were noted on stoles and jackets and hoods were seen on capes, dresses and short jackets for casualwear. "I don't believe prices have increased from the last showing," Mrs. Lunsford said. "Among 42 long dresses we ordered, one will sell at $48 and the remainder for less money. I think prices remain relatively the same and some appeared to be slightly lower," she added.

One of the highlights of the trip was attendance at a "super" fashion show presented by eight of New York's top designers. Braniff Airlines transported the designers and their models to Dallas as a special project — "Salute to New York Fashion," the local store owner said. Most of the activities during the week were centered at the Dallas Apparel Mart.

The Fidelity Class met at Nameoki United Methodist Church during the weekend for a potluck dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bailey.

Arrangements of fall flowers in autumn colors centered the dining tables. Mrs. Edward Erney, after the opening prayer, Ralph E. Bailey presented the devotion taken from Romans Chapter 12. Mrs. Lewis Rains presided and led a discussion on the annual church Christmas bazaar to be held on Saturday. Class members will sponsor an "attic treasure" booth.

Members agreed to send a contribution to the Methodist Children's Home at Mount Vernon in honor of Henry Canham, and a Yule party was planned for Dec. 13.

Guests attending were Mrs. Chalmers Tucker and son, David, and Mark Brokaw. Members present included Mr. and Mrs. Pete Berta, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Key, Edward Erney, Mrs. Elsie Staggs, Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman, Mrs. Henry Canham and Lewis Rains.

Grace Baptist plans 18th anniversary revival

Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., will celebrate its 18th anniversary with a revival featuring six former members who are now in the ministry. All the men are presently pastoring churches, or are in school preparing themselves for Christian vocation.

The revival starts Monday night, Nov. 10 and will continue through Sunday Nov. 16. The speakers are Rev. Danny Patterson (Monday), Rev. Don Brown, (Tuesday), Rev. Bob Crawford, (Wednesday), Rev. Charles Barber, (Thursday), Rev. Jack Gray (Friday) and Rev. Jim Warren (Saturday). The revival will start at 7:30 each night.

Special music will be provided each night by Robert Patton, music and youth minister at Grace Baptist, the Grace Choir, The Agape, The Vibrations and Larry and Jeannette Rucker. The public is invited to attend the meetings, according to the Rev. Bill Duvall, pastor.

Musical program for Pack 46

The October meeting of Cub Pack 46, sponsored by Nameoki School PTA, was held last week at the school and featured musical skits performed by Cubes of the individual dens, who played homemade instruments.

Mrs. June Branding led the group in singing three special songs. Acting cubmaster, Ronald Coleman, president of the meeting and led the pledge of allegiance.

He later welcomed two new dens and presented Bobcat badges to Paul Rerry, Stephen Branding, Anthony Harrell, Brian James, Charles Schwab, Scott Sarter, Brian Starling, Steven Stegelmeyer, Scott Koberna, Richard Valencia, Scott Schoenhardt, Donnie Hemphill, Keith Bono, Paul Ballew, Scott Speck and Tim Robertson.

Other awards were given to Mike Gracich, Wolf badge with gold and silver arrow points; Eddie Thomas, Wolf badge; Steven Crow and Daron Boyd, two silver arrows under the Wolf badge, and Mark Foley, a silver pin under Wolf badge.

New den leader awards were presented to Mrs. Branding and Mrs. Brenda Schoenhardt.

Coleman announced Jerry Foley will be the new pack and the "cubby" award went to Mrs. Carol Poole's Den 4.

In closing, all dens led the audience in singing "America." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Yvonne Foley's Den 5.

Lisa D. Rankin married in candlelight setting

Miss Lisa Dawn Rankin and Danny Tyler exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Roy A. Baugh at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 25 at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

An arch festooned with pompons in fall colors, intermingled with greenery, provided the setting for the evening service.

Dr. Walter Mathis presided at the organ and played a program of nuptial music during the ceremony.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length organza gown. The scoop neckline was defined with an organza ruffle and the long lapped sleeves were delicately appliqued with Venice lace motifs.

Lace appliques were repeated on the skirt, encircled at the hemline with gathered flounce and trimmed with lace, which extended into a chapel train.

A lace caplet secured her lace-edged, melody-length veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses, interspersed with dried straw flowers and baby's breath, with long white satin streamers.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William Rankin, reside at 2743 Michigan Ave. The groom is a son of Wayne Tyler of Granite City and Mrs. Wanda Nordstrom of Wood River.

Attending the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Hillmer, Miss Laura Robertson and Miss Janet Foster.

They chose gold floral halter dresses worn with matching jackets with long sleeves. Each held a fall bouquet of orange carnations and green baby's breath.

Jennifer and John Rice, cousins of the bride, were the flower girl and ringbearer. The groom chose Lester Graham as his best man. John King and Darrell Tyler, a brother of the groom, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Jerry Rice, an uncle of the bride, and Patrick Higgins.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Tyler at a reception held at the American Legion Hall. The rehearsal dinner was served at the Heritage House in St. Louis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rankin selected a formal gown in hunter green polyester, complemented with a long sleeve flared jacket.

Mrs. Nordstrom, the groom's mother, appeared in a long orange knit dress created with a round neckline and long sleeves.

Both mothers wore cymbidium orchids.

The bride attended Granite City Schools and is now working at K-Mart Store. Her husband works from Wood River High School and is currently employed at Belle-State Auto Parts in Alton. They will reside in Granite City.

Out-of-town guests included four uncles of the bride, the Refreshments were served at the STUE Student Center at the end of the ride.

Yehling said monthly rides are being planned by the group to historic and scenic sites in Southern Illinois and area states.

The newly formed QBL Touring Club offers informative programs, including live demonstrations on bicycle safety, repairs and racing techniques, the adviser added. He said anyone wishing information may call 876-5986, or 876-4825.

Party honors

Leah Barnes

Leah Barnes was guest of honor at a Halloween party held in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman, 3152 Aubrey Ave. The house was decorated with glowing jack-o-lanterns, witches and goblins.

Co-hosting the party was the honoree's mother, Mrs. Nancy Barnes, assisted by Jeff Endicott and Mike and Jeff Sherman.

Prizes were won by Kathy Naglich, Julie Seitzer and Laurie Schubert.

After the games refreshments were served to those named and to Angie Naglich, Kris and Robbie Curtis, Vickie and Kelly McMillan, Ann Early, Ricky Barnes, Mrs. Emma Elmore, Mrs. Evelyn Thompson and out-of-town guests, Mrs. Marilyn Thompson and son, Robbie, Jeff Endicott and Mary Ann Avancini, all of Wood River.

Vocational guidance post filled

Roy McConkey, who was hired by the Granite City Board of Education 17 years ago as the first guidance counselor in the district, was appointed Tuesday night by the present board as first vocational guidance counselor for the district's two high schools.

McConkey, a Collinsville resident, presently is a counselor at Granite City High School South.

The appointment ended months of consideration by the board during which many applications from present district personnel as well as outside applicants were considered and several persons were interviewed by the administration and the board.

As the district's first vocational guidance counselor, McConkey will be responsible for planning and suggesting ways of implementing programs to aid students in vocational education. His time will be divided between the district's two high schools.

He is familiar with business, having worked in several businesses and having owned his own business at one time. McConkey has a bachelor of science degree in industrial education and a master of science degree in guidance and counseling, both from Bradley University, Peoria.

He also has taken post-graduate courses at Austin Peay State College, Clarksville, Tenn., and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

In other business, Mike

Hagopian, a social studies teacher at Prather Junior High School, was appointed the seventh grade basketball coach at that school. The position was vacated when Nick Petrillo was transferred to the same position at Coolidge Junior High School Oct. 7.

The board agreed to create an assistant wrestling coach position at Coolidge, if it is necessary. Joseph Fedora, director of athletics for the district, told the board 65 students came out for wrestling at Coolidge, "which is just too many for one coach to handle."

He said the board had the options to create an assistant coach position or to tell the coach to trim his team to a reasonable size, with 45 being suggested as a maximum.

Board members said they felt students should be given every opportunity to participate in sports programs and agreed they would rather create the assistant coaching position than to have interested athletes turned down.

Fedora said it may not be necessary to fill the position, if enough students drop from the team during the next week or two.

He added he is extremely pleased with the wrestling turnout in the junior high schools this year and said 41 students are in practice at Crigby and 92 came out for the Prather team.

The board accepted the retirements of Alma Brown and Roe Breyer, both cafeteria workers. A request from Annis Clark, a special education teacher dealing with visually impaired students for the board to accept her resignation was turned down until a qualified replacement can be found.

Leaves of absence were granted to Mary Cory, a cafeteria worker, and Judy Collins, a physical education teacher at Marshall School.

Barschak named Ainad officer; Adams advances

Thomas J. Barschak, assistant purchasing agent for SIUE, has been named outer guard on the Divan (officers) of Ainad Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. He makes his home in Edwardsville, and is a graduate of the East St. Louis school system, later attending the University of Illinois.

Due to a vacancy on the Divan occurring when Earl Potter resigned as second ceremonial master, the other officers below that post were moved up. This created the vacancy to which Barschak was named by Potentate William R. Popkewitz.

Barschak is a member of East Lodge 504 of Fairview Heights; Scottish Rite Bodies, Valley of Southern Illinois, of which he is a member of the board and an officer; and a member of the York Rite Bodies Tancered Commandery of Belleville. He also holds membership in the Queen City Chapter of Order of Eastern Star, and the Sword of Bunker Hill.

Barschak became a member of Ainad Temple in April 1966, has been in the cast since 1964, and a noble of the uniformed units. He is presently serving as steward for the Temple.

He held membership in the

THOMAS J. BARSCHAK

Belleville and Edwardsville Shrine Clubs as well as the Dania Shrine Club of O'Fallon.

Others of the Divan who moved up in line, and their offices are: Joseph Barnes Jr. to orator; Fred Morris to DuQuoin to captain of the guard; Bill Parker of Fairfield to marshal; and Donald G. Adams of Granite City to second ceremonial master.

Charge 3 in shooting

Three young Venice men, arrested following the shooting of a door and a police car in the 1000 block of Calhoun St., Venice, Friday, were charged Monday in connection with the case.

Police were told Friday evening that shots had been fired near the North Venice Grill, 1100 Calhoun St., and a squad car was sent. One bullet had broken the front door of the grill and another lodged in the wall near a service counter.

When the Venice police car arrived, a shot was fired at the car, which struck the passenger side just above the window. The car went around the block to keep from being fired at again.

A second squad car en route was showered with bricks near Logan and Weaver streets, it was reported.

Police reported seeing three young men enter a parked car near the grill and followed the car to Lee Wright Homes.

Several other police cars and officers joined the police effort and about 12 officers chased the suspects through Lee Wright Homes. Two were captured there, Jerome Kirkland, 20, of 1104 Douglas St., and a juvenile boy. The juvenile later was released.

Officers said Kirkland was pounding on an apartment door when arrested. The occupant of that apartment, Kevin Campbell, 19, of 101 Lee Wright Homes, later went to the Venice police station and was arrested.

A .22 caliber pistol was recovered in the housing project.

Police continued to watch the area of the North Venice Grill and reported seeing Fred "Fast Black" Smith, 19, of 1127 Bissell St., walking near the grill. He also was arrested and was taken to the police station. He allegedly dropped a marijuana cigarette when police approached.

Police conducted an investigation which led to charges being filed Monday.

Campbell was charged with armed violence. Smith was charged with possession of a cannabis and Kirkland was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and not having a firearm owner's identification card.

Rites held for L. L. Ruegge, 48

Funeral services were conducted at a Linn, Mo., funeral home on Oct. 30 for Leroy L. Ruegge, 48, of Rural Route Two, Granite City. He died at 10 a.m. Oct. 27 at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

The Rev. Junior Adams, former pastor of New Hope Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Linn Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. Ruegge was born in Bay Mo. He was employed as a machinist at Cottrell and Windeman, a branch of Missouri Research Co., St. Louis, for 20 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lillian Ruegge; one son, Randy L. Ruegge, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Betty L. Ruegge Harper of Granite City and Kathy M. Ruegge at home; his mother, Mrs. Rosie Ruegge of Gerald, Mo.; two brothers, Ervin Ruegge of Beahlo and Kenneth Ruegge of Owensville, Mo.; six sisters, Mrs. Lorene Luepfer, Fort Meyers; Mrs. Viola Heyde, Southeast, Mo.; Mrs. Delores Deppe, Morrison, Mo.; Mrs. Fern Claas, Buford, Mo.; Mrs. Lavern Koepke, Gerald, Mo., and Mrs. Shirley Rice, Rosebud, Mo., and one granddaughter.

Floyd Epperson 87, dies here

Floyd J. Epperson, 87, of 2444 Hodges Ave., ill for one year, died at his home at 5 a.m. Tuesday.

He had been employed 30 years as a barber preceding his retirement and was a member of the Barbers' Union.

Mr. Epperson was born in Grandin, Mo., and resided here 55 years.

His wife, Mrs. Caroline "Caddie" (Smith) Epperson, died Dec. 7, 1971. A daughter, Alma Epperson, also preceded him in death.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Wilbur (Katherine) Freloger, Mrs. Mary Lee Rozycy, Mrs. Thomas (Betty) Christopher and Mrs. Caroline Simpson, all of Granite City; two sons, Thomas Epperson of Granite City and Walter Epperson of Collinsville; 16 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

RADIO IS STOLEN

A $250 citizens' band radio was stolen from the auto of Mrs. Jo Ann Gendson, 2230 Lincoln Ave., parked at her home, she reported at 3:25 p.m. Tuesday.

GC Auxiliary Police awards

The Granite City Auxiliary Police held their first annual Awards and Recognition Banquet during the weekend at the Civil Defense Headquarters, 141 Nineteenth St.

Sergeant Jess Levart, who was designated "Officer of the Year" and received his award from Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer.

In addition to his duties with the auxiliary police unit, Sgt. Levart also serves as president of the Citizens Band Emergency Radio Team (CBERT), a group affiliated with the local civil defense organization.

Special guests at the dinner were Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and Mrs. Schuler; and Bethalto Police Chief Lewis Dreith and GC Police Lieutenant Colonel George Teller and their wives.

Other officers presented awards for "outstanding service" to the Granite City unit, included Sergeant Paul Weathers, who received the Auxiliary Police Chief's Award from John Becker, auxiliary chief; and Sergeant Oliver Corzine, who was presented the Civil Defense Director's Award by Victor H. Koenig, local CD director.

Service ribbons, each one representing three years' service with the auxiliary police unit, were awarded to 12 members. Included among the recipients were Chief Becker and Sgt. Corzine, both of whom received eight ribbons, signifying 24 years' membership in the unit.

A buffet dinner was served to 56 persons and the evening concluded with a social hour. Other special guests attending were Assistant CD Director Harold Mayfield and Joe Vaughn, CD field commander, and their wives.

Church Women United World Community Day

Church Women United in the Quad-Cities will celebrate World Community Day on Friday at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, beginning at 7 p.m.

On Friday, thousands of church women will gather in their communities to commit themselves to work toward a global society in which all persons have the opportunity to realize their aspirations in "One Community Under God."

The dream of one community is not new for Church Women United, local leaders explained. The goal of building a world community which lives in peace was one of the cornerstones of the movement when it began.

In 1941, during the week of Pearl Harbor, when the constituting convention of the United Council of Church Women met in Atlantic City, N.J., one of its first acts was to inaugurate a day of peace.

Every year since then, church women have celebrated World Community Day on the first Friday in November to emphasize corporate action for justice and peace.

Locally, the celebration will place special emphasis on world hunger and the "Water for Women" project, according to Mrs. Ronald Pennell, chairman.

Participating in the program will be the Rev. Robert Keltel, pastor of the host church, the Rev. Michael Inyard and Sister Barbara Mary of Sacred Heart Church, and Annette Tarpo, Jeanie Pieper, Carol Schiewerjohn, Erin Rutledge, Larry Heagy and Karen Shevick.

Discuss World Community Day

A report on plans for World Community Day, an annual observance sponsored by the Church Women United, to be held at 7 p.m. Friday at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, was given by Mrs. Esther Ruth Zimmer at a meeting of the Evening Guild on Monday night.

Deviations were presented by Mrs. Helene Kettelhuber who distributed thank you notes from people who benefited by contributions received as a result of the church thank offerings.

President Mrs. Bea Rittenhouse presided at the session.

A patchwork quilt that is being made by the church women for the Hiltz Home in Alhambra was displayed by Mrs. Ruth Brave.

A film entitled "The Hungry World" was shown by Mrs. Brave. It focused on the starving people all over the world. In keeping with the program topic, Mrs. Brave served crackers and water depicting the starvation rattle of individual countries which were inscribed on each place card of each member.

During the meditations, Mrs. Brave continued the program with statistics on the death toll of people in various countries which are unable to produce enough food crops to feed their people.

Mrs. Rittenhouse announced the Madrigal singers from South High School will entertain the group at a Christmas party on Dec. 1 at the church.

Hostesses Mrs. Olive Kahler and Mrs. Ruth Ann Bartels served refreshments to 24 who attended the monthly session.

Bazaar at Nameoki Methodist

Children under six years will be admitted free.

Among the items to be offered for sale will be hand sewn articles, holiday decorative items and craft gifts.

Others attending the meeting were Helene Bischoff, Ruth Hancock, Cindy Keen, Luan Hancock, Beverly Mcing, Sue O'Neal and Mrs. Jones, guest.

Mrs. Joyce Tracy will host the Nov. 25 session.

Pack 18 receives charter

Ron Luebben, vice chairman of Cub Scout Relations for the Cahokia Mound Council, Boys Scouts of America, presented a pack charter last week to Cub Pack 18, sponsored by Sacred Heart Parents-Teacher Organization.

160 Girl Scouts at 'spook' party

Girl Scout leaders and Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts of Neighborhood Two hosted a Halloween party for 160 Brownie and Junior Girl Scouts at the Koinonia Center last week.

The girls broke candy-filled pinatas, toured a haunted house on display in a special room at the center, played games and sang songs.

Following a judging of costumes, prizes of pumpkins were awarded to Julie DeRuntz as ugliest costume; Don Kamadulski and Michelle Vasiloff, cutest; Donetta and Juana Teschner, best made costumes; and Sheila Noel, best Bicolonial costume.

Eleven troops represented at the party were Brownie troops 389, 778 and 728 and Junior Troop 784 from Washington School; Brownie Troop 168 from Logan School; Brownie Troop 57 and Junior Troop 103, St. Joseph School; Brownie Troop 621, McKinley School; and Brownie troops 328 and 355 and Junior Troop 11 from Emerson School.

Cupcakes and favors were served to the girls by the troop leaders, assisted by members of Cadette and Senior Girl Scout Troop 144, Carol Lange, Connie Deak, Shirley Deak, Bertha Deak, Cheryl Krug, Darla Krug, Dawn Dilday, Jean Greer, Coleen McCabe and Regina Proffitt.

Coffee brunch for Chapter HT

A coffee brunch for new members and area unitaffiliates was given Monday by Chapter HT of the PEO Sisterhood. The hostess was Mrs. Irvin C. Slate Jr.

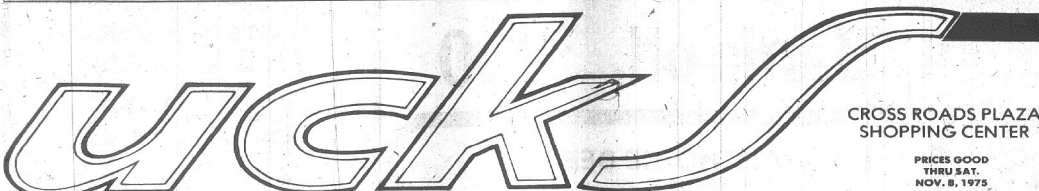

Plans for the brunch were completed at a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Elmer Baker.

Mrs. R. E. Backs, president, presided and gave a report on a meeting of the reciprocity group held in Belleville Oct. 27. Eight chapter members attended.

A review of chapter procedures was also given during the business session.

A Halloween motif was used in the table decorations by the hostess, who served a dessert luncheon to 18 members.

Mrs. B. S. Miller will entertain the HT members at the next gathering to observe the chapter's birthday.

Several items were taken from the home of Melvin Baker, 3216 Davis Ave., after entry was gained by forcing a door. Value of the items was unknown, it was reported Friday.

Supplemental security aid benefits blind, disabled

Almost 99,000 blind or severely disabled children of parents with little or no income and limited resources are getting almost $10.5 million a month in Federal Supplemental Security Income payments, according to William Kerr, Social Security district manager in East St. Louis.

The Supplemental Security Income makes monthly payments to people in financial need who are blind or disabled or 65 years old and over. There is no minimum age for payments to people who are blind or disabled.

"Depending on the parents' income and resources, payments can be made to blind or disabled children under age 18, or under 21 if they are in school," Kerr said.

Starting at 18, or at age 21, if they're in school, blind or disabled people may be eligible for Supplemental Security Income payments regardless of their parents' income and resources. The average Federal Supplemental Security Income payment to blind or disabled children is $106 a month.

Information about applying for Supplemental Security Income payments may be obtained by calling or writing any Social Security Office. The East St. Louis Social Security Office is located at 650 Missouri Ave., (telephone: 274-4100) and 6710 State St., (telephone: 398-5412).

Much stress but Illinoisans healthier than ever before

Rising divorce and murder rates that may reflect increasing stress on Illinoisans are reported by the Illinois Department of Public Health in its annual summary of the state's vital statistics for 1974.

Lewis Waters, executive director of the Tri-County Health and Welfare Council, told the Press-Record the document "provides much valuable data and is worthy of more attention than it has received."

He said the report should be of interest to the public because it reveals stresses and strains associated with daily life, as reflected in reports of fewer marriages, fewer suicides and fewer deaths attributed to motor vehicle accidents, while showing increases in divorces and homicides.

Oddly, the state recorded only one less birth this year than last, the total being 168,991.

Waters said the decline in marriages (3,424) over the previous year and increase in divorces (3,207) resulted in a cumulative ratio of 2.4 marriages for each divorce.

The reported death rate of 9.7 per 1,000 population in 1974 is the lowest rate on record.

Moreover, the infant death rate of 10.4 per 1,000 live births is the lowest and is roughly one-fourth the rate of 81.9 reported in 1923.

Dramatic progress has been made in combating diseases associated with childhood, he said.

For example, 10 years ago the state recorded 12,287 cases of measles and 27,864 of German measles. The 1974 figures are 1,513 and 526, respectively.

Reductions also were recorded for chicken pox, mumps and rheumatic fever. "The one-third reduction of rheumatic fever cases from 2,009 in 1964 to 602 in 1974 reflects the surveillance program initiated in 1957, when the State of Illinois began supplying prophylactic materials to physicians who completed progress reports on their cases," Waters said.

"For the third year in a row, no cases of poliomyelitis were reported. Unfortunately, no progress is evident in combating gonorrhea and syphilis.

"The 16,291 reported cases of gonorrhea in 1974 are roughly four times the figure recorded 10 years ago.

"For the past 25 years, there has been a continuing decline in the cases of tuberculosis and it now appears that the disease can be completely eradicated in a few years, if present efforts are maintained on case findings, treatment and surveillance.

"However, over this same 25-year period, a steady increase is recorded in the number of cases and deaths attributed to lung cancer and emphysema. "The three leading causes of death for both white and non-white racial groups were heart disease, cancer and cerebrovascular disease. These are the same as reported five years ago.

"Accidents were the fourth leading cause of death among white residents and homicides among non-white residents.

"Overall, it appears the state's residents were healthier last year than ever before," he summarized.

2 robbed in East St. Louis

Brenda Murray, 34, Granite City, and Sandra Morton, 22, East St. Louis, were robbed of their wallets by three men, one armed with a revolver, while the women were getting into their car on Fifth Street south of St. Louis Avenue in East St. Louis about 11:25 p.m. Friday. They said the robbers took their wallets and money and then attempted to take Sandra Morton's car keys. When she refused to give them the keys, she was struck on the head with the pistol and the gunmen fled. In addition to personal papers, Brenda Murray's wallet contained $41 and the other woman's wallet contained $10.

Vicki Tanksley poster child for Dimes March

The Madison County Chapter of the National Foundation March of Dimes held its 1975-76 organizational meeting last week at Moose Lodge 1561 in Edwardsville, with 200 volunteers attending. The dinner was held in preparation for the yearly fund drive, the traditional Mothers' March conducted during January.

William Elliott of Alton, chairman of the executive board, led the meeting, outlining procedures, informing key workers of the general patterns of the National Foundation, answering questions from volunteers, and reviewing successful procedures of the past to assure an effective campaign.

A bread sale has been planned for Nov. 21-23. The spring walkathon, mothers' drive and special events were discussed at length. Placement of coin collectors, teen and community trophies, publicity, film, speakers and chapter programs were other topics of discussion.

Pictures of community chairmen were taken with the 1976 Madison County birth defect poster child, Vicki Tanksley of Granite City.

Past poster birth defect children present, and planning an active part in the drive, were Deborah Warden, Alton, Brian Young for Easter Seals (VES) will conduct a rock concert and dance to benefit the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois Friday evening, Nov. 14 at the Godfrey Civic Center, Godfrey.

The band, "Bulky" will perform. Tickets are available on a "first come" basis only. Additional information and tickets may be obtained from Debbie Vasileff, Granite City at 677-3056, or by calling the Easter Seal Society at 1-618-462-8897. Tickets are $2 in advance and $2.50 at the door if still available.

Youth for Easter Seals sponsor various fund-raising activities to support the services Easter Seals provide to area handicapped children and adults.

Boston, Livingston, Stephanie Szczepanick, Rosewood Heights, Jason Cook, Hamel, and Jody McLaughlin, Edwardsville. All were given Halloween treats.

Wesley Rhea, field representative of Springfield, showed a birth defect film and reviewed national programs and grants.

Father James Shortal of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville religious center gave the invocation and benediction.

It was related that demands of the chapter have been great due to extensive work with congenital defects and post-polio victims, including financial aid to patients.

Providing scholarships for young people who plan to study in the area of health education is also a part of the county chapter's program.

Rhagum shots, given immediately following birth, are paid by the chapter for county mothers having the RH negative blood factor.

Educational materials, films and speakers are furnished for physicians, nurses, hospitals, clubs, organizations and general county use.

Financial support is given to birth defect centers at the Cardinal Glennon and St. Louis Children's hospitals in St. Louis. The chapter also contributes annually to the Illinois perinatal program. Presently under study is a spring medical symposium for physicians and nurses.

Illinoisans observed Thanksgiving Day — Nov. 25, 1875 — with a traditional turkey dinner and union church services in many cities.

"The sky was cloudless in its beauty," according to the Chicago Inter-Ocean, "and the air was, for the time of year, soft and gentle as could be desired."

President Ulysses S. Grant and Illinois Gov. John L. Beveridge had issued Thanksgiving Day proclamations which were published in many newspapers, according to a sampling of the files of century-old papers in the Illinois State Historical Library at Springfield.

Union church services with two or more congregations represented were held in Chicago, Rock Island, Moline, Springfield, Bloomington, Chenoa, Jacksonville and other cities.

But church services and turkey dinners were not the Thanksgiving Day activities. In Springfield, the Daily State Journal reported that the Governor's Guard held a parade, a shooting contest and a "grand Thanksgiving party and ball" with an "abundance of enjoyment, dancing, supper and promenading."

In La Salle, the Light Guards held an exhibition drill and their "grand annual ball" in the evening.

In Rock Island, the Daily Argus reported, "the sixth annual ball of the St. Patrick's Society" was held in the Turner Hall on Thanksgiving Eve.

An unusual Thanksgiving Day party was the "Re-Union of the 'Old Orphans'" at the Illinois Soldiers' Orphans' Home in Normal. The two-column-long story was not published in the Argus until Nov. 30, after the reporter (who was one of the alumni) had returned to Rock Island.

In 1867, Illinois had started three homes for single new home in Normal. It opened in June of that year with about 300 children.

Since residency was limited to children whose fathers had lost their lives in the Civil War — and who, on reaching the age of 14, had to leave and go "out into the world to make their own living" — the home could have only a limited life expectancy.

In 1874, the legislature passed an act that would admit children whose fathers had been soldiers but who had died since the war.

By 1875, the reporter estimated that "between 1,200 and 1,300" had left. At that time, there were 265 inmates — 145 boys and 120 girls.

Only 24 alumni showed up for the reunion but they formed an organization to be known as "The Alumni Association of the Illinois Soldiers' Orphans' Home" and set the date for their next meeting for the third Tuesday of the following August.

Another November event of note was a free excursion from Rockford to St. Louis and return, provided by the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad for politicians, businessmen, newspaper reporters and civic leaders along its route. An estimated total of more than 400 accepted the invitation.

When the train reached Rock Island, one of the coaches was on fire from an overheated stove. A bucket brigade was quickly organized and the blaze was extinguished.

The damaged coach was replaced and the train was soon on its way again. A stop was made at Beardstown at 1:30 p.m. for dinner; arrival at St. Louis was scheduled for 7 p.m.

The train left on Tuesday, Nov. 30, and on Wednesday the group was entertained by the "St. Louis committee," which provided a "grand banquet at the Southern Hotel."

That "soft and gentle" weather the Inter-Ocean said,

Chicago enjoyed on Thanksgiving either did not last long or did not affect Rock Island, because on Nov. 30 the Argus reported the Mississippi River to be frozen over.

"It has been closed," the paper said, "at Port Byron and above for some days, and we hear that teams have crossed from Port Byron to Le Claire."

The water level was so low that Deere and Co. and several other manufacturers were "compelled to suspend operations."

Moose hosts annual breakfast

Granite City Loyal Order of the Moose 272 held an annual Fellowship Breakfast Sunday at the Moose Hall, 19th and Adams streets, and welcomed two new fellowship members, Jack Wilson and Boyd Presley, and their wives.

Each received a fellowship pin followed by a ceremony honoring deceased fellowship members with special recognition accorded to their wives, Mesdames Margaret Belt, Alice Knipping, Erlene Frame and Nettie Coons.

After the breakfast, the fellowship brothers held a meeting to complete plans for the annual ball scheduled Nov. 22.

Those attending were a guest Fred Price of the East St. Louis lodge and local members, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Maxfield, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pulley, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chastain, Mr. and Mrs. Malford Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Virgil Singler, Miss Pat Lipscomb and Mrs. Mildred Votoupal.

Parents' chapter to hear Rev. Mank

Father Virgil Mank will be the featured speaker at a meeting on Monday evening of Chapter 91, Parents Without Partners, Allen Stevenson, president, has announced.

Members and guests are invited to attend the session at the VFW Hall, 1235 Vandalla Ave., Collinsville.

Other events planned for the members this month include a Thanksgiving dance in Belleville on Nov. 15; family bowling on Nov. 16 at the Belleville YMCA and a family Thanksgiving dinner at the First Presbyterian Church, 1303 Royal Heights Road, Belleville. Reservations for the dinner may be mailed before Nov. 14 to: Irene Kettie, 125 St. 25th St. Belleville.

Jewelry display at meeting

Plans for a Christmas party to be held at the Collinsville Holiday Inn were discussed at a meeting of the Granite City Association of Educational Secretaries at the board office. President Mrs. Dorothy Luckert was in charge of the session and Phyllis Picknerl was named as chairman of the event.

Fine jewelry was the subject of this month's program. Mary Hudson, program chairman, introduced Lee Jackson, manager of Hudson's Jewelry, Edwardsville, and Jim Hudson, vice-president of Hudson's. Jackson showed jewelry with a total value of $45,000. As each girl displayed the item she was given, Jackson described it and gave the price. Marge Burdge received a prize and Pauline Aufderheide was presented a gift certificate.

Hostesses Mary Hudson, Barbara Larner, Pauline Aufderheide, Vivian Hillen, Pearl Kennerly and Priscilla Veach served refreshments to the following members: Betty Williams, Gladys Wallace, Ethel Weiss, Arlene Haldeman, Martha Kateman, Irene Williams, Ellen Grace Hoffmann, Irene Karlechik, Juanita Craycraft, Martha Rochester, Frieda Andrews, Marcella Pickler, Barbara Dickerson, Pat Unnoff, Lee Guenther, Berta Millanis, Mildred Chandler, Karen Seidler, Marge Burdge, Lucile Caban, Genevieve Kaula, and Shirley Brown.

Easter-De Vine engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. DeVine, 3244 Rodger Ave., are announcing the engagement and forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Miss Bette Jane DeVine to Steven W. Easter, the groom-elect is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Easter, 1924 Joy Ave.

graduates of Granite City High School South. Miss DeVine is employed as a secretary by Cohen Foods Inc., Granite City. Her fiancé is a plasterer and works for the Fournie Plastering Co., Belleville.

Plans are being completed for a wedding on Feb. 6.

George Hommerts mark golden wedding year

Mr. and Mrs. George Hommerts, 1919 Fourth St., Madison, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a buffet reception held last week at the First United Methodist Church in Madison.

After the business session, Mrs. Hommerts, an auto mechanic, retired 10 years ago. Autumn flowers were used on the wedding cake, decorated in gold and white and topped with a miniature bride couple, centered the buffet table. About 75 guests attended the party.

Social events for Altar Society

St. Elizabeth Altar Society, met last week to outline plans for future events, including a tea on Sunday, Nov. 16, for Sister Mary Gabriel's 25th anniversary, and a Christmas dinner-dance on Saturday, Dec. 6.

Also reporting was Ida Gragg, who attended the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women's convention in Springfield in September. Sheila Polter was named to plan the school children's Yuletide party.

A Christmas party at a nursing home will be held in December. The chairman, Mrs. Thelma Judy, will announce final arrangements at the next meeting.

After the business session, pies and coffee were served by hostess Pat Niles and mothers of the first grade students.

President Mrs. Romana Lofink welcomed 78 members and guests, followed by reports from two officers, Mrs. Mary Evelyn Yenchko and Mrs. Agnes Friedl.

The room attendance prize went to the first grade class and the madonna was awarded to Margaret Grobolski. A gift also was given to Deloris Scharro.

MR. AND MRS. DARRELL GALL, whose wedding took place at Tri-City Park Tabernacle. Formerly Miss Carolyn Fay Wallace, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. Wallace Jr., 2521 Stratford Lane.

Carolyn F. Wallace and Darrell L. Gall are wed

Miss Carolyn Fay Wallace, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. Wallace Jr., 2521 Stratford Lane, and Darrell Leonard Gall, a son of Leonard Gall, 3963 Highland Road, Fairview Heights, and the late Mrs. Virginia Sutton, were united in marriage at 7 p.m. Aug. 1 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

The Rev. J. Albert Calaway officiated at the double ring ceremony. Paula Tolliver, a cousin of the bride, sang "If Time in a Bottle," "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Alan Bogovich.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white Chantilly gown with ruffled bodice and chapel train. Her lace-trimmed organza veil was secured to a lace cap. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses, white daisies, pink carnations and greenery, with satin streamers.

Honor attendant Mrs. Russell Sutton, a sister of the groom, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Wayne Brechler, Miss Dee White, and Miss Angela Sutton, a niece of the groom, wore identically designed gowns in a rose print organza in yellow, apricot, blue and pink.

Fashioned with sleeveless bodices and flounced flared skirts, their dresses were worn with matching picture hats. Each held a colonial nosegay of tinted daisies and greenery in matching colors.

chler, John Gall and Calvin Wallace, brothers of the bride and groom, and Ron Edwards and Lee Wallace, uncles of the bride.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the St. Louis Heritage House.

Candlelighters were Roger Wallace and Dennis Sutton. Miss Sue Province presided over the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wallace chose a long blue princess-style gown and the groom's step-mother, Mrs. Gall, was attired in full-length beige chiffon gown. Both wore corsages of pink and white Sweetheart rose corsages.

Both the bride and groom graduated from Granite City High School. The former Miss Wallace is employed at the Aloha Beauty Salon and her husband works at American Steel Foundries. They are residing in Granite City.

Christian Women's luncheon Nov. 12

Lynn Wallin of Rockford, Ill., a widely known concert and musical comedy artist, will be featured at Wednesday's luncheon of the Southern Illinois Christian Women's Club at Fischer's Restaurant, Belleville.

Mrs. Wallin uses "A Fairytale of Broadway" as her topic and speaks of it as "show tunes spun on a thread of fantasy to make the heart light," according to Dorothy Perkins, the club's publicity chairman.

The guest speaker has performed a full concert under the auspices of Rockford College and was soloist with the Rockford Choral Union.

Job-connected treatment for alcoholism

James Pomeroy, formerly of Granite City, is directing a project for the Insurance Companies of North America (INA) which offers a new approach to treating alcoholism by harnessing the "corporate profit motive" and "promoting coverage of alcoholism treatment under employee health insurance policies."

Pomeroy, a Granite City High School graduate, received his bachelor of science degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1969, and his master of sociology degree in 1974. He served as director of the alcoholism treatment program for the state of Ohio prior to his new position.

A sociologist, Pomeroy is now working toward his doctorate. He is the son of Mrs. Evelyn Myint of Granite City.

Fatima Circle installs

Newly elected officers of Our Lady of Fatima, Circle 835 of Daughters of Isabella, were installed in joint ceremonies with other Circles of the Springfield diocese at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Edwardsville.

Those taking office from Granite City were Mrs. Irma Manning, regent; Grace Range, vice-regent; Mrs. Marion Rose Lambert, past regent; Mrs. Pauline Meszaros, financial secretary; Josephine Knezevich, treasurer; Mrs. Vera Carey, recording secretary; Mrs. Clara Schilling, monitor; Wilma Manee, first guide; Celi Manee, second guide; Anna Mokri, outer guard; Ann Brennan, inner guard; Mary Horvat, custodian; Ann Pare, chancellor; Dorothy Hoedebach, first trustee; and Peggy Krnkovich, third trustee.

Other officers not able to attend were Martha Kouszek, banner bearer; Fran Gruber, second trustee; and Dorothy Bridick, organist.

Opening benediction was given by Father Stanley of Glen Carbon, who is chaplain of O'Reilly Circle 218 of Edwardsville.

Installation ceremonies were conducted by Lucy Schnell, state regent. Special guests included Mary Mansfield, past state regent; Mary Ann Swip, past diocesan chairman who is presently serving as state recording secretary.

Regents from other Circles installed were Pauline Sharkey, Alton; Ann Petrait, Collinsville; Mary Ann Sparks, Mattoon; Betty Hentz, Edwardsville.

Mrs. Hentz announced the project for the ensuing year will be assistance to Sister Marie Regis, who serves the ministry at Eastern University.

Other members of the local Circle who attended the event were Mary Pastain, Eva Rice, Florence Byrnes, Mary Kastelic, Agnes Rodierich, Florence Ashal, Rose Schmitt, Olga Varley, Helen Smith, Mary Ann Bunk, Dell Miller and Stephanie Ruzic.

Pomeroy is directing the program in the Delaware Valley area with International Rehabilitation Associates and Greenwich (Conn.) health consultants.

The overall program is under sponsorship of the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA), which decided to experiment with a new approach to the alcohol problem by distributing among five companies $3.5 million worth of incentive contracts as "seed money," hoping to create programs that will continue without further government funds.

The NIAAA also hopes to assure the permanence of such programs by promoting coverage of alcoholism treatment under employee health insurance policies.

"We can't supply money from the public coffers for alcohol treatment forever," Willard O. Foster, director of the NIAAA project, said. "Many non-profit groups have not shown the management and marketing skills that we want to tap in the private sectors," he added.

Foster said a number of the 700 federally funded projects established at a cost of $242 million to alleviate drinking problems in the past four years have proved disappointing.

NIAAA spokesmen also pointed out the private sector has an important stake in the new project's success. The National Council on Alcoholism estimated that alcoholism affects five to ten per cent of the country's work force, costing business at least $15 billion a year in absenteeism, accidents, sick leave, botched work and the expensive results of bad executive judgments.

At the same time, Foster said, business is in a unique position to help reduce this loss. Experience had demonstrated that alcoholics are most amenable to treatment in relation to their jobs, a fact that influenced the NIAAA's design of its new programs.

The NIAAA so far has awarded only the five contracts to set up treatment centers, two of them to subsidiaries of Westinghouse Electric Corp. and INA Corp. The contractors provide free standing treatment centers for employees of corporations in their area.

The approach has three objectives — to train supervisors in business to recognize problem drinkers and encourage them to seek help; to treat these drinkers early and help them retain their jobs; and to pre-group health insurers to extend out-patient coverage to treatment of alcoholism as part of employee benefit packages. Pomeroy estimated the cost of rehabilitating the average patient at his center will cost between $450 and $600 and will take a period of six months per patient. He expects to recoup costs through employee insurance.

Most of the new programs set a six-month treatment period with total abstinence and a behavioral change that will alleviate the problems caused at home and on the job by the patient's drinking as the goal.

The employee is held responsible for making the appointments and attending the treatment sessions, which usually is taken place outside working hours.

The beginning patient is first checked by a doctor and therapists to establish that his major problem is booze. If it is not, he is referred elsewhere. The treatment for alcoholism is in two phases.

Phase I, running six weeks, is geared to helping the drinker to recognize his problem and to weaning him or her from liquor altogether.

The patient is subjected to films, discussions, group confrontations and individual counseling, often with a family member present. Antabuse and other drugs are often used to reinforce the patient's willpower in shunning alcohol. Few patients refuse to acknowledge their drinking problem after six weeks, and the hard-core "deniers" get a further work-over.

Most patients go into Phase II, a more time-consuming treatment that helps the patient to dig into the problems that his drinking causes and to identify the stress situations that drive him to drink.

Group and individual therapy exposes the patient to a variety of techniques; discussion, acting out a typical situation, advice from other members of a group and developing little tricks to dodge temptation to drink.

After treatment has ended, the patient may return for follow-up visits if needed, it was explained.

Fewer Halloweeners on streets this year

Youthful trick or treaters appeared to be absent this year in many neighborhoods, at least in large numbers, according to area residents. Many reported only taken groups of youngsters at the door, frequently escorted by watchful parents or older brothers and sisters.

The shortage of door-to-door tricksters was reflected, to some extent, in fewer children and adults in the Downtown Granite City Halloween parade

Friday night, The event traditionally is sponsored by Moose Lodge 272.

Between 75 and 100 took part in the annual march through the downtown area and the costume judging on the steps of the City Hall.

The Rolling Nobles from the Tri-City Shrine Club led the parade and the participants were judged by Officer Friendly Glenn Wright of the Granite City Police Department, GC

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Shrine organization and Mrs. Michael Thompson, wife of the local Salvation Army officer.

Marchers competed in three categories, with first, second and third place cash awards presented to the winners in each. Forty additional honorable mention cash gifts were distributed by the Moose Club, assisted by members of Women of the Moose Chapter

Winning entries included: "Most Original" — Don Briggs, dressed as the Hunchback of Notre Dame pulling a gargyle on a float, first; Sammy and Nicole Tate, second; and Carla Andrews and Both McNeilly, third. "Best Dressed" — David and Sheila Noel as Ben Franklin and Betty Ross with a Spirit of '76 wagon, first; Randy Feltmeyer, second; and Carl Ann Crawford, third.

"Funniest" — Tim Bernaix as a headless "pobbelly" figure, first; Danny Payne, second; and Bridget Fry, third. Moose members Walter Anders and Archie Pulley were in charge of the parade.

NOTICE: Don't forget with each $3 purchase you receive a chance to win one of three turkeys to be given away NOV. 25.

Letter From Springfield

By Rep. Everett G. Steele

A "zero" balance is predicted for the Illinois state treasury by the end of this fiscal year — after all bills are paid — by the state comptroller of Illinois.

How did the state treasury get into such a financial situation, after a $500 million surplus 14 months ago?

Despite the warnings of both State Treasurer Dixon and State Comptroller Lindberg of declining revenues, the highest budget in the history of Illinois — third highest in the nation — was proposed by the state administration for 1978.

Unfortunately, attempts in the legislature to cut various parts of the budget failed. The result has been the largest budget deficit in the history of Illinois for the current year.

Recognizing almost too late the fiscal plight of the state, the governor has found it necessary to cut spending, by vetoing some of his own appropriations.

Uncomfortable as some of these cuts may seem, the unpleasant reality is that a spending must be balanced with the funds which are available.

The legislature is now in session to act upon these spending cuts. It is a time for hard decisions and for fiscal responsibility.

To override the spending cuts at this time would add many millions to the already large deficit for 1978.

If funds are not available in the treasury, they cannot be appropriated or voted, without irreparable harm to the institutions served and to the taxpayers of Illinois. The recent financial crisis in New York City testifies to this fact.

As for the future, what must be done?

Just as with a household budget, spending must be controlled so as not to exceed income.

First, the administration must correctly forecast revenues for the coming year, 1976, and establish necessary educational priorities within that budget.

Non-essential programs must be curtailed.

And a serious effort must be made to cut ineligible recipients from public aid rolls. A 15 per cent ineligibility rate in public aid in Illinois not only drains our treasury of $200 million per year in needed funds, but prevents Illinois from receiving $50 million of its share in federal aid funds.

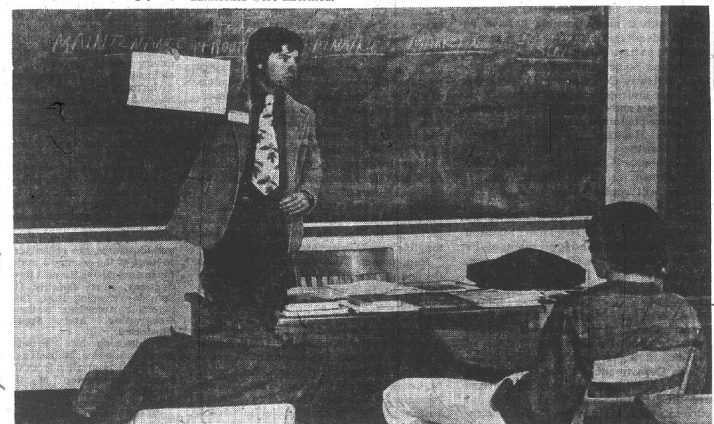

Fiscal responsibility in Springfield and in all levels of government is needed now. To act otherwise is to unjustly serve both the taxpayers and all public-supported programs.

Strong Quad-City representation on Gateway Council as trend toward government regionalization continues

The trend toward increased regionalization of governmental decisions brings with it many possible benefits as well as advantages. The Quad-City area is fortunate to have strong representation on the various bodies that make up the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the St. Louis metropolitan area's council of governments and this region's central comprehensive planning agency.

Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman, has been elected to succeed Lawrence K. Roos as Gateway Council chairman. St. Louis Mayor John H. Poelker will replace Hagnauer as vice-chairman.

The Council's board of directors includes, in addition to Hagnauer, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, who is president of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors. Also among the 12 Illinoisans on the 25-member board are H. Jack Frandsen, president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, Dan C. Dees, chief of the Illinois Transportation Department's Bureau of Planning, and Frank Kirk, director of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs (Dees, Kirk and two Missourians are non-voting members). Regional citizens who hold six of the 25 positions include Edward Moore of the local area's Executive Advisory Committee members include John Belkoff, Matthew D. Melucci, Robert L. Gardner, Paul Hawkins and Theodore H. Miskell. Among the Regional Forum members are Kiril Kirchoff, Leo Konzen and Moore.

Gateway Council planning and the other regional bodies are shaping the kind of place the St. Louis region is today and will be tomorrow.

"It is the only forum which brings together the elected governmental leaders of the area to establish, through consensus, regional policies on matters of wide importance. The board of directors includes the top elected officials of counties and municipalities in the Missouri and Illinois sectors of the region, the chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency and regional citizens."

The staff seeks to "avoid planning for planning," says the objective is to complete plans that can be translated into tangible results in a reasonable time.

Recognizing the current economic decline of the St. Louis region, Gateway moved in 1975 to strengthen this area's position as the largest inland waterway port and second largest railroad center.

Also developed closer working relationships with the Bi-State Development Agency, Alliance for Regional Community Health, St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association, Missouri Council on Criminal Justice and Archway Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

It secured the largest grant in its decade of operation, $2,243,000 from the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency, to develop a wastewater treatment management plan, with a goal of assuring that "waterways will be fishable and swimmable."

Gateway is working with the Southwestern Planning Commission in coordinating wastewater management planning for the Illinois portion of the metropolitan area.

An added dividend is the research staff, which can provide specialized expertise, not usually available within a particular community, when any of the local-level governmental agencies call on Gateway for problem-solving help.

As a final indication of gateway's impact on its region, it has reviewed in 1975 nearly 4,500 projects for federal funding in 1976. The total amount for 50 St. Clair County projects, $30 million for 46 Madison County programs, $50,000 for a Monroe County proposal, $58 million for 54 projects in the City of St. Louis, $54 million for 68 in St. Louis County, $8 million for 16 in Jefferson County, $7 million for 27 St. Charles County projects, $308,000 for 11 Franklin County projects.

Private enterprise most efficient way to provide minerals, products

By RICHARD L. LESHIER
President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Given our growing problems with shortages and embargoes, on all-out effort to locate and develop our own mineral resources seems like the obvious thing to do. It comes as a considerable shock to learn that we are in fact moving in the opposite direction.

"Unbelievable as it may seem, an area larger than the continental United States of the Mississippi River is no longer accessible even for mineral exploration, much less mining. Most of the restrictions were imposed only recently."

In 1968, roughly 17 per cent of our public lands were excluded from mineral exploration and development under the mining law, and 24 per cent were excluded under the leasing laws — the laws governing use of mineral resources on public lands. By 1974, the totals reached 67 per cent and 73 per cent, respectively.

"These lands were withdrawn from productive use under a bewildering variety of programs — ranging from the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act to the Wilderness Act to the needs of the military. Congress and various parts of the executive branch have all had a hand in the process."

In principle, there is certainly nothing wrong with preserving public land with unusual scenic or recreational value. I support that wholeheartedly. But surely there must be reasonable limits to the exclusion of public lands from mineral exploration and development. The federal government has gone hog wild in the preservation game; largely, I suspect, because each individual move in that direction looks praiseworthy, while nobody has bothered to step back and see what it all adds up to.

The land area involved is enormous, but the effect on our mineral supply is even worse than the raw acreage figures suggest.

"Thanks to accidents of history and geography, most of our public lands are located in the West, and that's also where the most promising mineral prospects are found."

Over one-third of our land area is public land. Why should private companies be allowed to "exploit" public land?

First, because the private company is the most efficient land user. It has the incentive to provide the products and services we all want. Government is not equipped to do the job, and would probably botch it if it tried.

Our need for copper, zinc, coal, etc., and the things made from them, is growing so rapidly that it is important that we find virgin wilderness.

Second, most extractive industries do not disfigure or otherwise harm the land on (under) which they operate. In those cases where there is a potential for damage, the damage can be prevented (or repaired) without a total ban on mining.

It is just plain silly to suggest that the tiny entrance to an underground mine "ruins" a million-acre forest. Most people and animals wouldn't even know it was there.

The companies that do the work bear the cost and risk of exploration and development — not the taxpayer.

In the case of lands governed by leasing laws, private companies usually bid competitively for the right to develop specified resources in the tracts at auction.

The money they pay goes into the Treasury, but there's no guarantee the minerals will cover the cost of the lease. Some companies win big; others lose big.

What should we do to assure a future supply of the minerals we need? At a minimum, we should charge one party: department or bureau of the federal government with keeping track of the total amount of land that is being closed to development.

Then we should work out ways to permit exploration and mining in these "closed" areas while still providing sufficient protection to the lands on which it takes place.

We'd better do it soon. There are now 119 bills to establish wilderness areas in 35 states pending before the Senate Interior Committee.

History lesson on new phone book covers

Granite City area residents will be getting more information than usual from their new Illinois Bell telephone directories — a "guess who?" lesson in American history, according to Ken Evers, Illinois Bell manager in Granite City.

In a salute to 20 decades of independence as a nation, Illinois Bell's directory covers for 1975-76 will feature figures from America's history, its myths, its present and future. The cover will be on most Bell System directories across the country.

It's designed to be a birthday card from the Bell System to the nation, but it also marks the centennial celebration of the invention of the phone by Alexander Graham Bell in 1876.

The directory with the anniversary cover will be delivered to Granite City area customers starting Nov. 7. On that day is a result in shaping the Statue of Liberty, Shirley Temple, Jackie Robinson, among others, seen on the cover, will be calling each other to pass along a birthday message to the nation and comparing notes on how times have changed from 1776 to today, Evers said.

"The cover is our birthday card to ourselves," said Stanley Meltzoff, the New Jersey artist who created the Bicentennial cover. "I wanted it to be happy, festive, colorful, amusing, full of good wishes and fond memories, old sentiments and new hopes."

Meltzoff, a well known artist and illustrator, has contributed to most of the country's major magazines during the past three decades, notably the Saturday Evening Post, Life, Scientific American, National Geographic and Sports Illustrated.

In devising his "birthday card" to America, Meltzoff said he took his inspiration from the basic importance of the telephone to modern communication.

"If you took a cross section of all the millions of phone calls crossing and criss-crossing the nation at any given moment, you'd get a pretty good picture of modern America and the hopes, plans and problems of its people," Meltzoff said.

The Bicentennial cover's format — a strip of heads, much like a comic strip, passing along a message — has some of the "chiselled touches for the keen-eyed observer to find. The American Indian, for example, may look familiar. He is depicted as he once looked on the Indian-head nickel. And he has smoke signals coming from his mouth.

"And there's Jackie Robinson, one of baseball's greats, holding a telephone receiver. He's ready to take a home run swing at a fast ball coming over home plate. A complete identification of each of the characters and a description of the phones they use is printed on the inside back cover of the directory."

The cover illustrates how telephony has grown up with the nation. Each character on the cover is speaking on a different type of phone, including Alexander Graham Bell, using his original device, a liquid transmitter with a tuned reed receiver. Other characters include an astronaut on one of today's public phones, and a yet unborn baby, circa 1976, on a visual phone of the future.

Evers said that he hopes the new directory will keep the attention of its owners even after everyone has figured out who is pictured on the Bicentennial cover.

"As interesting as the folks pictured on the front and back of the directory may be, there

Our Nations 200th Birthday, the Telephone 100th Birthday

LESSON IN HISTORY. Cover on new telephone directories, distribution of which is to be started by Illinois Bell this week, features figures from America's history, its myths and its present and future. George Washington, the Statue of Liberty, Shirley Temple and Jackie Robinson, among others, are portrayed on the new phone book cover. Ken Evers, Illinois Bell manager in Granite City, said the new cover was designed as a "birthday message" to the nation during its Bicentennial, and also to mark the 100th anniversary of the invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell in 1876.

Johnson-Nameoki noise, debris are called bad even without tavern added

The majority of these businesses have created nuisance problems for the surrounding residents.

Five of the eight restaurants are basically "carry-out" franchises, which has resulted in a constant flow of trash such as paper cups and sandwich wrappers in the streets and yards.

The parking lots in this entire area have become the congregating places for the teenage crowd, primarily because of the accessibility of food.

This has resulted in rowdiness and moving hands causing vandalism as the teenagers leave the lots.

This problem has grown to the magnitude that the restaurants are hiring off-duty policemen for protection while the residents, especially on Johnson, are afraid to leave their homes at night.

Since the opening of the liquor store several years ago, another dimension has been added — especially during the warm months.

As you crowd gathers in the area between Johnson and Clark for night beer parties which result in cans and broken bottles being thrown in the residents' yards.

The problems — fighting, shootings, noise, etc. — experienced at some business places are weekly headlines.

Now that Tempel's is closed down, the people of this area do not seem to begin anew with the problems that are associated with the operation and patrons of a tavern.

Mr. Gitcho has been quoted as saying it will be the "most expensive lounge in this part of the country," implying that it will be a first-rate operation catering to the more sophisticated patrons.

However, he is also quoted as saying "there will be no table service, food service, live entertainment, or other features — only a juke box," which implies that it will strictly be a place to drink, with no cover charge to help weed out any undesirable characters.

Does this sound like a first-class operation that will not spawn the typical fighting and trouble?

Mr. Gitcho, who is not a resident of Granite City, has also warned the people of Granite City not to discourage the developers or we will "kill the goose that lays the golden egg."

In this case, the goose has laid a rotten egg which the nearby residents don't want to be forced to eat. We have had enough.

There is another aspect of this project which has not been clarified to the residents.

Article 16.016 of the Municipal Code of Granite City states that "no person shall engage in business as a retailer of any alcoholic liquor within 400 feet of another location where a liquor license has been issued."

Since the Corral Liquor Store is located approximately 250 feet from this location and on the same property, it is clearly a violation of this ordinance.

It is, therefore, incumbent upon the mayor, since he has sole responsibility for issuing liquor licenses, to stop this lounge from proceeding any further.

This is the only action that will best serve the entire city, since the issuance of this license would only establish a precedent for other locations within the city.

The residents of this area feel very strongly about this and encourage anyone supporting our viewpoint to contact the mayor's office and voice an opinion.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD P. BARBARA J. MAYCOCK are more interesting individuals listed inside. Friends, neighbors, local business people, and your own family, of course," he added.

Evers said there's more in the directory than just names and telephone numbers. There also is much valuable information to help telephone users save time and to give them more service for their telephone dollar.

A "Helpful Information" page tells, for example, how to handle annoyance calls, where to obtain information about special equipment and services for disabled customers, and how to order directories — at no charge — for other often-called communities, he said.

To make it easier to estimate charges on long distance calls and to help customers keep their maximum rates for calls from the customer's town to other points inside Illinois and across the country.

Because directories contain all this information, Evers said the best place for the phone book is — beside the phone.

"The directory is really like a dictionary of the community," Evers said. "The more convenient the book is, the more you'll use it and the more time you'll save. In a back closet, the directory won't be where you need it — especially in an emergency."

He said the directories have been specially designed for use in homes and offices. The front cover lists police and fire department numbers. There also is room to add numbers for the doctor and for ambulance service.

"Having those numbers handy is the best reason I can think of for keeping your directory by the phone," Evers said.

Combined federal drive

To the Editor:

At the present time, the United Way organization is conducting its annual drive. At the same time, a unique fund-raising program is also being held, exclusively for federal civilian and military employees.

This program, conducted by the U.S. Civil Service Commission, allows the federal employee to make contributions to approved local, state, national and international organizations in the health and welfare fields.

The contribution can be made by having it withheld from his paycheck, and it will be distributed to the agencies that he chooses.

It gets to be a rather complicated procedure, but it does work. It is commonly known as the Combined Federal Campaign.

Each CFC has its chairman who must be a local federal executive. Local chairmen are Col. Harry L. Bush, U. S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center, Granite City.

Agencies and constitute one of the three partners of the CFC campaign; the United Way and the International Service Agencies are the other two.

Each employee can make a voluntary contribution to any of these agencies.

Article receives praise

To the Editor:

Thank you very much for the lovely story Mrs. Eversden wrote about the family of Benjamin Williams, and also for the follow-up story. (Mr. Williams died after a story about his 100th birthday but before the observance.)

She writes with such warmth and feeling.

The articles will be cherished by our family for many years.

Hold parents responsible for all property damage, theft incidents

To the Editor:

"Parents liable for vandalism."

The above headline was used in the Oct. 29 Press-Record regarding Halloween pranks.

Will someone please tell me why the parents should not be responsible for all misdemeanors committed by their children?

It has been proven many times that no consideration is given other people's property by children and some adults.

Maybe, just maybe, if a few parents had to pay for a broken window, snatching purses, etc.,

some of the crimes would be eliminated.

Not so much lately, but in the past grave crimes, and-or other monuments in cemeteries have been vandalized, with cemetery vases and flowers stolen.

Community kind to Tinsley family

To the Editor:

Your thanks and deepest appreciation prompt us to let the children wonder how the Granite City and surrounding area know that their kindness and concern — during the tragedy recently suffered by our daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tinsley — is most grateful.

The Tinsley home was destroyed by fire.

When a loved one so far away is faced with such a tragedy, the anguish is almost unbearable.

In these times of economic stress when everyone seems to be touched by the everyday strains of just trying to make a livelihood, how marvelous that these problems seem to disappear and the spirit of human kindness and brotherhood takes the helm to help someone in need.

Our many thanks to Mr. Hollis and his son for rescuing our lovely granddaughter, and also to the Granite City firefighters and the many wonderful donors.

May God richly bless each and every one of you.

GC North band members view Champions contest

Granite City High School North Band representatives returned to Granite City Sunday evening after a two-day trip to observe the "Contest of Champions" at Middle Tennessee State University, fired, enthusiastic, and wiser, according to Band Director Robert D. Todoroff.

The "Big Mac" coach provided by the McDonald Restaurant owner, Dave Embury, proved to be everything one could expect and a great deal more in the opinion of the 20 North High Band representatives, Todoroff said.

"The electrifying experience of seeing 32 of the most outstanding marching bands made a strong educational impact upon our representatives," Todoroff said.

"I feel that the benefits to our marching band program will pay off in the coming years by having given a front line understanding of what we are trying to put into our marching program for our students here," he added.

The "Contest of Champions" may be entered only by state contest winners in their respective states. The Grand Championship was awarded to the Lafayette High School Band of Lexington, Ky. The reserve championship was awarded to the George Rogers Clark High School Band of Winchester, Ky. The Winchester Band was the grand champion for the last two years.

The Governor's Trophy, presented to the most outstanding band from the state of Tennessee was presented to the McGavick High School Band of Nashville, Tenn.

The contest is hosted, each year by Joseph T. Smith, director of the Middle Tennessee State University, "Band of Blue." Smith is nationally recognized as one of the most outstanding marching band music educators in our country.

"We've already incorporated many ideas gained from our observation into our forthcoming half-time show Friday, the last of the season for the Marching Band from Steeler Land," Todoroff said.

Preschoolers in Halloween parade

One hundred and twenty-four year-olds attending the Title I Preschool Center at 2425 Logan Avenue took part in a Halloween parade from the center to Logan School Friday.

In separate programs, one during the morning and the other in the afternoon, groups of about 60 children each were given snacks, watched cartoon movies and played games in the school classrooms. Treats were distributed to all.

Mothers of the youngsters accompanied the children during the parade and helped with the programs.

Vision tests reveal 47 per cent need further checkups

A total of 400 persons, with 47 per cent needing referral for further examination, underwent free "S.O.S." (Save Your Sight) vision screening tests last month at the Koinonia Center, 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

Owen Rose, chairman of the Granite City Jaycees governing board, said results of the tests were made available last week by the Vision Conservation Institute, Inc., of Downers Grove, Ill., under whose auspices the testing program was arranged.

The free program was co-sponsored as a public service by the Granite City Kiwanis Club and the Jaycee organization.

Area optometrists, Dr. Benjamin T. Rose of Granite City and Dr. Gary Meier and Dr. James Strieder, both of Collinsville, served on the professional examining team.

Persons having unsatisfactory screening checks were referred to a professional of their choice for follow-up examination and diagnosis, Rose explained.

Test results determined a total of 187 persons having unsatisfactory vision tests, with the largest number falling in the 35 years and older age level. Fewer unsatisfactory tests were shown in children between the ages of 3 and 6 years.

Results of the vision examinations at the different age levels, with the satisfactory, unsatisfactory and total number screened, listed in sequence, are as follows:

3 to 6 years—41 satisfactory, two unsatisfactory, 43 total; 7 to 18 years—113 and 74, total 187; 19 to 34 years—37 and 21, total 58; 35 years and up—22 and 90, total 112.

According to Fred Marvin, executive director of the Vision Conservation Institute, the screening here was just one of the many S.O.S. programs that are being sponsored by local service groups all over the state.

"The importance of these tests cannot be stressed enough," Marvin said.

"Twenty-nine per cent of school age children and 41 per cent of adults suffer from some degree of vision impairment and often never know it without such screenings.

"We hope," Marvin added, "that other public-spirited service organizations will recognize the importance of the 'Save Your Sight' screening program and schedule one for their own area."

Arrangements for sponsoring a screening or having an "Eye Exhibit Talk Program" can be made by calling 1-312-968-2837, or by writing to the Vision Conservation Institute, 1923 Elmwood Road, Downers Grove, Ill. 60515.

Hearing on permit

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct an on-site public hearing at 9 a.m. Friday at 2561 North St., where Willis J. Basden Sr., is requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of an existing mobile home on the lot.

Basden is seeking the permit for the remainder of his life, so his son, living nearby, can assist him. The property is in an R-3 single family residential district of Venice Township.

INJURED IN CRASH
Linda Kailer, 26, of 3708 Ruth St., told authorities she was injured when an auto in which she was riding ran into a ditch, causing pain to her neck, back and shoulders. She was released following x-rays Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and was admitted at 7:30 p.m. Saturday when she returned for further treatment.

Schools to help fight child abuse

Teachers can play a greater role in controlling child abuse and neglect in Illinois, according to Dr. Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, and Mrs. Mary Lee Leahy, director of the State Department of Children and Family Services.

The two officials announced plans during the weekend for informing all school personnel of their responsibilities under the new Illinois Abused and Neglected Child Reporting Act. Dr. Cronin said materials prepared by the two agencies—an explanatory letter, a booklet and a card giving telephone numbers for reporting in each Illinois county—have been sent to every Illinois school district superintendent. Packet preparation was coordinated by Cleo Anderson of DCF and Kenneth Midkiff of the Office of Education.

Mrs. Leahy said the mailing was developed in response to the increasing role school personnel are playing in detecting child abuse.

"Our department received 2,801 reports of suspected abuse in the 1974-75 fiscal year that ended June 30; 527 reports were received from school personnel, nearly double the number of reports they filed in the previous year," she said.

The state's first child abuse law was passed in 1965. A broadly expanded version, passed earlier this year, includes four major new provisions:

1. All citizens who report suspected abuse cases to the department are now considered to be acting in good faith and are immune from any legal action which could be brought against them as a result.
2. A physician who suspects a child he is treating has been abused may retain the youngster in temporary protective custody while DCF investigates the suspected abuse incident.
3. Children up to age 18 are now protected under the law. Previously, the law applied only to children through age 16.
4. Sexual abuse and mental injury were added to the legal definition of child abuse.

Household shower held to assist fire victims

A miscellaneous household shower was given at the Pontoon Baptist Church last week as a benefit for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas, of 4124 Breckenridge Lane, whose home and belongings were destroyed by fire on Oct. 14.

The shower was sponsored by the church and hosts were Mrs. Dottie Farrell and Mrs. Ed Bennett. Guests contributed gifts of housewares and household items to help replace items lost in the fire.

Those attending who brought gifts were Mary Budley, Lucille Klug, Mattie Bennett, Mary Thomas, Naomi Thomas, Connie Orahod, Betty Barunica, Doty Spicer and daughter Tracie, Carol Farrell, Mauri Dickey and sons, Ethel Singleton, Gladys Lackey, Earline Lee, Pattie McLain, Darla Rivera, Laurie Flowers, Marian McLain, Mary Sturdivant, Joanne Sturdivant, Juanita Gault, Evelyn Moore, Beatrice Harvey, Kathy Sneed and son David, Elaine Emert and Tracie, Nova Farrell, Wanda Singleton, Mary Lee Kiel, Juanita Craycraft, Jessie Champion, Dorothy Phillips, Sue Flowers, Rhonda Bennett, Linda Bennett, Cheryl DeFuntz and daughter Jamie, Robbie Wilson and Debbie Vincent.

Marine completes basic training

Maria Private John G. Seley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Seley of 519 Margaret, Mitchell, has graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

Physical conditioning, discipline and teamwork are emphasized during Marine recruit training.

Classes include instruction in close order drill, Marine Corps history, first aid, uniform regulations and military customs and courtesies.

Election by Association for Retarded

The general membership of the Madison County Association for Retarded Citizens has elected officers for 1976. They are:

President, Hershell Teller, Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City; first vice president, Wesley Metzger, Granite City; second vice president, Duane Weber, Godfrey; secretary, Susan Baker; and treasurer, Joseph Taylor.

The Madison County Association for Retarded Citizens seek to promote the general welfare of mentally retarded individuals of all ages everywhere — at home, in communities, in institutions and in public and private schools. It also supports research to prevent mental retardation in children yet unborn.

Through its affiliation with the National and the Illinois Associations for Retarded Citizens, the Madison County ARC works with public officials and legislative bodies to help implement special programs for retarded citizens.

By maintaining liaison with federal and state organizations, the group tries to improve education and to promote living and training standards.

The Madison County ARC operates two pre-school and adjustment centers, in Alton and Granite City.

The newly-elected officers will be installed this month and will take office in January.

Session on agricultural law

By RON CORNWELL, Agricultural Adviser

Madison County farmers and landowners will attend a telenet program on agricultural law, Tuesday, Dec. 9, at 7:30 p.m. The program will be in the Cooperative Extension Service telenet room on the second floor of the post office building in Edwardsville.

The program is designed to answer many of the questions that farmers and landowners have in the area of agriculture law. Specific topics include an update on the latest laws affecting agriculture, how the worker's compensation law affects you, the occupational health act, fence laws, drainage laws and farm corporations.

Would it be to your advantage to form a partnership or a farm corporation? These plus many other questions of concern to agriculture law will be covered in the program.

Al Boek, University of Illinois, extension specialist in agriculture law will be the speaker. Mr. Boek has written many publications on agriculture law and is an authority on the subject.

Due to the size of the telenet room, attendance will be limited to thirty people. Anyone interested in attending should call the Madison County extension office in advance of a meeting. (Telephone 656-7200)

The program is sponsored by the University of Illinois, Cooperative Extension Service, in Madison County and is open to the public at no charge.

SHEEP DAY PROGRAM

Predators, such as coyotes and foxes, will be the main topic of discussion at the Illinois Sheep Day program on Friday, Dec. 12. The program starts at 10 a.m. on the University of Illinois sheep farm at Urbana. Coyotes and foxes are found in every Illinois county and their numbers are expected to increase. These predators have become a real economic problem for sheep producers once they start killing sheep. This is rapidly becoming a very serious problem in many parts of Illinois.

NITROGEN APPLICATION

Should nitrogen be fall applied? Corn yield studies show that fall applied nitrogen is somewhat less effective than nitrogen applied in the spring. However, applying nitrogen in the fall can reduce field work during the critical planting season.

When nitrogen is applied in the fall, losses can be held to a minimum by carefully considering soil conditions and field slopes. Be sure nitrogen is applied in the ammonium form. It is held on the soil particles while nitrate isn't. Thus, ammonium is less subject to loss by leaching or denitrification. The ammonium form of nitrogen should be applied when the soil temperature at the four-inch level drops below 50 degrees F. Cooler temperatures slow the action of soil microorganisms which convert ammonium to nitrate and thus increase the likelihood of loss.

Avoid applying nitrogen on sandy soils and poorly drained soils in the fall. In general, fall applied nitrogen is not recommended in Southern Illinois because the soil temperatures do stay warm late in the fall.

More and more critics are rating Sherwood as your best "performance-per-dollar" buy in receivers... and this S-7110 is a good example why. With good FM performance, an uncomplicated and well-thought-out control panel, plus plenty of power to throw these Altec into gear. Altec provides unbelievable sound pressure levels... and maintains its open, natural sound at the same time. The turntable provides the no-torsion version of their old super-reliable 40B... this time with a new, improved low-mass tonearm that tracks extra light when combined with ADC's LX-1 cartridge. And the price? Super-low at CMC this weekend.

Power? Lots of it. Sherwood rates the S-7244 at 20 watts RMS x 4 (20-20,000Hz @ 8 ohms) at no more than 0.6% distortion. That figures out to about 40 watts per channel when you surround yourself with four of these dynamite Altec speakers. Listen to the Altec and you'll find the high bright and smooth wherever you position yourself... while the lows are clean and natural. Sherwood provides the no-torsion controls (like a high filter) to keep your music clear of tape hiss and extraneous noise. The turntable provides lots of extras, too. Like Garrard's famous Zero Tracking Error tonearm and cueing that's damped in both directions. And we've added one of Shure's best cartridges... for the final finishing touch.

DIVER OF THE YEAR and new president of the Granite City Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club, Larry Earney, left, accepts his award from D. L. "Whitey" Morrison, retiring president, at the Bubblemasters 16th annual awards banquet. The award won by Earney, bestowed for top all-around participation in club activities, is the highest honor conferred by the diving group upon an individual.

TOP SPEARMAN. Don Digirolamo, captain of the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT), receives the "Spearfisherman of the Year" trophy from D. L. "Whitey" Morrison, retiring president. Digirolamo tied in total season points with Phil Lamm and Walter Marzluft, but speared the largest fish among the three divers to break the point parity. Tony Gray (not shown) won the "largest fish" trophy for a 12½-pound German carp, which set a new North American Catch record.

Gala awards banquet for divers

Larry Earney was elected president of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City and also was named winner of "Diver of the Year" honors at the club's 16th annual awards banquet.

The event took place during the weekend at the Collinsville Holiday Inn. A smorgasbord dinner was preceded with a cocktail hour. Dancing followed the awards ceremony.

Earney, an employee of the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co., resides with his wife, Sharon, and children at 2301 Wilson Ave.

He is the diving club's former vice president and an active member of the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT) and the group's entertainment, dive and air committees.

The "Diver of the Year" award, highest honor the club bestows upon an individual, is conferred for "outstanding contribution in all club activities." Earney was presented the award by D. L. "Whitey" Morrison, retiring president, who served as toastmaster at the banquet.

Elected to serve with Earney in 1976 were: Bob Burns, vice president; Paula Speers, recording secretary; and Ron Ruppel, secretary-treasurer.

Honored as "Spearman of the Year" for 1975 was Don Digirolamo, BURT captain, who received a large trophy. The award is given annually to the diver accumulating the highest number of points in spearfishing in a single season. Digirolamo tied for the season's point total with Phil Lamm and Walter Marzluft, but speared the largest fish among the three divers to gain the first place title.

Tony Gray netted the "largest fish" award for spearfishing a 12 pound, eight ounce German carp, which set a new North American Catch record.

Also receiving trophies for "largest fish" catches in a single month were: Richard Grizzard, 10 pounds, 10 ounces (June); Digirolamo, 10 pounds, eight ounces (July); Earney, eight pounds, six ounces (August); and Ruppel, eight pounds, 11 ounces (September).

Winning the "Novice Diver of the Year" award was Phil Throm.

Appreciation pendants for "outstanding work" in the club's behalf were presented to Mary Adams, Paula Depew, Janice Grizzard, Loretta Burns, Elva Jean Weiss and Sharon Earney. Junior club members also receiving commemorative necklaces were Kim Morrison, Dawn Duffin and Donna Depew.

Plaques for "outstanding service" to the club program were awarded to Airmaster Dee

SHERWIN-Williams

INTRODUCING CLASSIC 99

A breakthrough in latex wall paint! It combines the features you want most in one premium paint.

New Classic 99 from Sherwin-Williams.

It's the best latex wall paint we've ever made. In fact, we think it's the first truly premium latex wall paint on the market. Because it's the first latex wall paint that combines the features you want most.

It covers better. It covers like no latex wall paint we've ever made before (and coming from Sherwin-Williams, that's quite a statement!).

It's scrubbable. It's the most scrubbable latex wall paint we've ever made. So you can use it in rooms where the walls take abuse, and scrub it clean time and time again.

It's so tough and long-lasting, you can use it on wood trim. Classic 99 is so tough and so long-lasting, you can not only use it in any room in your house, you can even use it on wood trim.

It's available in 679 colors. Unlike most so-called premium paints that give you a very limited choice of colors, Classic 99 is available in hundreds of colors.

We guarantee your satisfaction. With a paint this good, we know you'll be satisfied. This latex wall paint is the result of extensive research and testing by The Sherwin-Williams Company. We guarantee your satisfaction in the use of this product. For your purchase price will be cheerfully refunded.

New Classic 99. Available only at Sherwin-Williams Decorating Centers, including the one near you.

At $11.99 a gallon, it's a great value. Especially if you can't afford to waste time and money on cheaper paint. Classic 99 is the best-covering latex wall paint Sherwin-Williams has ever made. And because it's so scrubbable and long-lasting, you paint less often.

SEEKING KIWANIS SUPPORT. Pat Quinn, secretary-treasurer of the Coalition for Political Honesty, standing, addresses the Breakfast Kiwanis Club Thursday in support of an amendment to the state constitution that would tighten conflict of interest rules and place other reform measures in the constitution governing the

Bikeway upgrading predicted

Illinois will make a substantial commitment to improvements for the "bike centennial," Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, Democrat from Edwardsville, told the fourth annual Midwest Bicycle Convention in Springfield during the weekend.

"As part of the coast-to-coast event, 100 miles of scenic Southern Illinois, from Fort Kaskaskia through Carbondale and then through Shawnee National Forest to Cave-In-Rock, will be upgraded as a bikeway and generally tidied for the celebration," Vadalabene told the group.

"It is time to correct the misimpression that automobiles own the whole road. Both pedestrians and bicyclists own and deserve a share of it," the local senator observed.

Referring to "the ever-increasing use of bicycles for recreation and transportation," Vadalabene said, "In 1975, when the bill I sponsored to make all this possible was in the hopper, we said about a third of the people owned bicycles."

"Now there are still more bicycles, and the National Recreation and Park Association reports that half the people in our total population ride bicycles. That is more than 100 million bike riders in the U.S."

"I am proud to be called the father of Illinois bikeway legislation. I am proud of our vision for the future when, back in 1972—a year before the Arab Oil crisis—we began to put together the bicycle bill."

"I am proud of the hard work we did in both the House and the Senate to put this bill through," Vadalabene concluded.

U. S. studying alleged Walker use of federal funds for political gain

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare is drafting a legal memorandum on Gov. Daniel Walker's spending of federal Title III funds for a mailing in his name to Illinois senior citizens.

Walker's signature and use of the governor's stationery on the $12,000 mailing to 120,000 Illinoisans to advise them of their benefits has been questioned.

The issue has been raised in Illinois as to whether Walker used public funds for political gain.

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, commissioner of HEW's Administration on Aging, which has jurisdiction, met with his Title III Officials in October to consider the issue.

Flemming agreed with them, the officials said, that a "legal memorandum should be prepared on which we can reach a final decision."

The agreement with the commission calls for putting the issue in writing, or reducing it to a legal memorandum detailing arguments on both sides.

The official delegated to draft the memorandum said it is hoped it can be ready for the commissioner's consideration soon. "We want to get this settled," the official said.

The issue in Illinois has raised a new legal question for HEW, officials have conceded, and its resolution will be in the nature of a precedent for national policy.

HEW sources earlier had said they were unsure where such mailing funds might originate within the department.

But they surmised they came out of the regular allotment made to states under Title III of the Older Americans Act.

States are free to use their discretion in spending Title III funds, although HEW's regional offices are supposed to monitor them.

The meeting of Title III officials with Flemming is said to make it apparent that HEW has determined that such funds are the point of issue.

Receives air safety award

Maggie Sparks of Granite City, a flight attendant for Ozark Air Lines, has been awarded a Certificate of Appreciation from the Association of Flight Attendants for her contributions to air safety.

Mrs. Sparks received the award at a three-day AFA

Seven Madison firemen attended an advanced training workshop of the Illinois Fire Chiefs Association in the Madison County Firemen's building near Collinsville.

Those attending were Terry Rhoads, Charles Voloski, Mike Macko, Robert Bosworth, Greg Bargiel, Joseph Kosteki and Sam Economy.

Items covered in the workshop included fire prevention, problems in fire service, buildings and their construction, community relations and municipal water supplies.

AFA President Kelly Rueck said Mrs. Sparks has consistently instilled the importance of "safety first" among fellow flight attendants and played a significant role in maintaining Ozark Air Lines' high safety standards.

Air safety is a significant function of AFA, which represents 20,000 flight attendants of 20 U.S. airlines, Rueck said. Mrs. Sparks and her husband Jim reside at 4000 Sara St.

$100 CASH STOLEN
Patricia Hall, 2906 Victory Drive, told authorities during the weekend that while she was shopping at the K-Mart Store, Nankooki Village Shopping Center, someone removed a wallet from her purse containing $100 in cash and a ring valued at $40.

Village buys police car

After seeking bids for the third time, the Pontoon Beach Village Board awarded a contract during the weekend to Bo Beuckman Ford, Collinsville, for $4,750 to supply a new 1976 police-package Ford for use by the village police department.

On two previous bid openings, the board decided not to open Beuckman's bid, since it was the only one received and board members indicated they would have nothing to compare it with.

Three bids were received by Saturday morning with the Beuckman bid being accepted over bids from Granite City Dodge and Mathews Chevrolet of Granite City.

In other business at the special Saturday morning meeting, the board accepted the resignation of the police department's juvenile officer, Donald Patrick, which became effective at midnight Saturday.

Patrick is to work with Coordinated Youth Services in establishing a branch in the village.

The board amended a village ordinance which had set a minimum age of 18 years for persons to play amusement machines. The amendment drops any age requirement for amusement machines "in places of public resort."

TELEVISION THEFT
Evelyn Rogers, 3108 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported that she returned home and discovered a door open and someone running away, carrying her black and white portable television and a wall clock. A window was forced open. No value of the items was given.

Now you can make a Long Distance call to any other state in the United States for less than you'd pay for an ice cream cone.

If you've eaten any ice cream cones lately, you know it's pretty hard to get one for less than a quarter. Yet for only 22¢ or less you can make a Long Distance call to any other state in the United States (except Alaska and Hawaii) with our new one-minute weekend rate. That's 22¢ or less for the first minute. 16¢ or less for each additional minute. And all you have to do is dial direct and call on the weekend before 5 p.m. Sunday. Look at it this way. Isn't a Long Distance phone call to your family or friends worth the price of an ice cream cone?

Direct-Dial rates do not apply to coin, hotel, guest, hospital patient, credit card, collect or person-to-person calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an Operator must assist on such calls. They do apply on station-to-station calls placed with an Operator from a residence or a business phone where Direct-Dial facilities are not available. The 1-minute rate does not apply on calls within Illinois. Rates quoted do not include tax.

Arrest two inside home

Two East St. Louis boys, ages 14 and 15, were arrested inside the home of Michael Modrusic, 2036 Pontoon Road, at noon Monday after they allegedly used a rock to break the side door glass and reached through to unlock the door.

A neighbor reported seeing the boys break into the house and called police. When officers arrived, one policeman reported seeing a youth looking out a rear window.

Police were stationed at all doors and one sergeant entered the building, bringing the boys out. They were searched, handcuffed and taken to the Granite City Jail.

The house was checked and police found stereo equipment stacked against a wall in the living room and bills and coins scattered in the hallway. Front and rear bedrooms were ransacked with drawers opened and items thrown on the floors.

The two juvenile boys later were taken to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home where they will face juvenile court action.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL
Raymond Valencia, 35, of 1693 Market St., Madison, reported that he was beaten by several persons in East St. Louis about two hours before seeking treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital here during the weekend. He received multiple lacerations to his face and head, and underwent surgery for injuries to an eye.

Pioneers' hardships, early picnic resorts are recalled

(Fifth in a series on Quad-City area history — presented as part of the local U. S. Bicentennial observance — follows. It was written by Mrs. Georgia Engleke.)

German Protestants of Six-Mile Prairie 112 years ago organized what is now St. John's United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed).

August Brandes was chosen as temporary chairman and William Storck as temporary secretary by the 14 founders.

The founders began to make plans to erect a house of worship. One hundred and fifty-six persons contributed $1,052, and Henry Ruwisch gave two acres of land for a site for the new church.

The church was erected in 1863 at a cost of $1,062. Herman Hoelscher volunteered to haul the organ from St. Louis.

This new congregation needed a minister, and a German-speaking one. The Reverend W. Wilken came to America and was the first minister of St. John's Church.

In 1871, a tornado leveled the church, but it was rebuilt immediately.

August Brandes was the youngest founder of St. John's Church. He came to America in 1846 at the age of 21.

He worked on a steamboat in St. Louis and helped clean the streets for $3 a month and board.

He was living in St. Louis during the cholera plague and during the great St. Louis fire on the riverfront.

He came to Six-Mile Prairie and worked as a hired man. In 1853, Mr. Brandes married Miss Dora Mueller but she died a few years later.

Mr. Brandes was married again in 1861 to Christina Stauber. After their marriage, they lived on a farm he had purchased.

They lived in a log cabin of one room with a kitchen "lean-to" built of boards standing on end.

One window supplied light and air.

After a time, a new dwelling was built and more acres were added to their farm.

Five times they were driven from their home by high water, but they would always return and start over again.

The above is typical of the struggles these pioneer local farmers had to endure.

Another German church was built in 1880. It was called the Immanuel Lutheran Church.

About 1880, a resort was built at Horseshoe Lake. Some years later, it burned and the Moellenbrock family rebuilt it.

It became a weekend rendezvous point for the families of SIX MILE HOUSE. The hotel served as a gathering place for drivers and travelers on the wagon trail leading across Illinois to Venice, where ferries operated. More of an inn in the old tradition than a hotel, it was a pioneer among local business establishments. The Six-Mile post office in the portion of the structure at the right was so designated by the federal government in 1837. Situated six miles east of the Mississippi River, the business was later known as Heinemann's. The five-acre site was purchased by the Wilkinson family in 1936. Located on what is now Route 162 west of Route 111, the dwelling on the tract was remodeled in 1969 and is occupied at present by the Edmond Wilkinson family.
